County Follows Town's Action In Demanding Norfolk Southern Right-of-Way for Super Highway

North Virginia Beach Six-Lane Highway Proposed by Board

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors took steps at its regular August meeting to provide a six-lane highway on Atlantic Boulevard, north of the Virginia Beach town limits, to Fort Story, considered the employment of a full-time building inspector to see that codes for building are enforced as well as zoning ordinances; adopted on final reading an ordinance which would prohibit any attempt to build houses on the present site of the Norfolk Southern right-of-way in North Virginia Beach; put away for future decision plans for an agricultural building which would centralize all of the agricultural agencies in the county; and adopted on first reading zoning ordinances that would affect the county.

The Norfolk Southern Railway Company's right-of-way through North Virginia Beach eventually would become a six-lane highway by a recommendation by the supervisors is accepted by the State Highway Department.

The supervisors adopted an ordinance proposing that immediate steps be taken to acquire by condemnation or otherwise the right-of-way from the northern limits of Virginia Beach to the Fort Story reservation. The board stated that the present highway 60 was inadequate and should be enlarged to take care of summer tourists.

The supervisors also spiked widespread rumors that a low cost housing development was planned along the railway's right-of-way through North Virginia Beach when it passed on final reading a zoning ordinance which would forbid the erection of any building on the present right-of-way, 75 feet from the west side of highway 60.

Oppose Bus Cartelment
The supervisors drew up a resolution opposing the proposed abandonment of certain Norfolk Southern bus lines in Princess Anne County on which there will be a hearing before the State Corporation Commission September 14. The supervisors asked for a 30-day continuance of the hearing and said they will send attorneys and a delegation to the hearing in Richmond.

Agricultural Building
A proposal to erect a $35,000 building in which all agricultural agencies in the county would be centralized was tabled. The supervisors declared that although the county needs such a new office building, the shortage of school facilities has top priority.

At Kempeville School, where extensive additions have just been completed, the building is still so crowded that some of the elementary school children are being put in the parish house of the Episcopal Church. It was brought out.

Bowling
A zoning ordinance which came up for action for the Great Neck section, west of Virginia Beach, was deferred until the September meeting. Another zoning ordinance which would affect the Bird Neck area, north of the Larkin Road was proposed for adoption on the first reading. This is a real.

Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club to Participate in Fair

"Godey's Lady's Book" Fashion Show Is Special Feature

by Mrs. E. L. Cooper
The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach is looking forward to the Princess Anne County Fair and will participate in many of its features.

Members of four generations of the family of the club mother, Mrs. G. T. Velline, will have entries among the exhibits.

Works of art are being readied for the art exhibit by students of the art classes sponsored last season by the Woman's Club; hand-writings of all kinds are being rushed to completion for entry in the "Godey's Lady's Book" fashion show.

Many of the exhibitors will give prizes or favors to the public, and others will award prizes for the various agriculture products and to special groups. Some exhibitors will attempt to attract visitors to their booths with action exhibits of their product, while others will stick to general displays.

Most of the booths have been sold, according to Kermit Land, chairman of the booth committee. Those that have already signed up for booths include: Virginia Beach Grocery, Berkeley Feed Corp., Virginia Beach Oils Corp., Princess Anne Lumber Co., Chamberlain Co. of America, Everett-Jordan Motor Co., Fuel Feed and Building Supply Corp., C. E. Hisebeck, "Ride with Gus," Fred A. Haycox, Chesapeake Steely Appliance and House Corp., Virginia Beach Motors, and an Old Company, Melton and Eaton, Inc., James G. Gall Co., Inc. and Curling Farm Supply, Inc.

Much activity is being centered around the tableau of old-time fashions to be presented by the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club at the fair on Saturday afternoon, September 9, as the "Godey's Lady's Book" style show. Costumes of imported lace, satin brocade, pompadour taffeta, sprigged muslin, and many others reminiscent of the turn of the century, will be shown. Models are: Mrs. C. G. Faison, Mrs. E. L. King, Mrs. G. F. Wilkinson, Mrs. R. G. Hines, Mrs. L. E. Valentine, Mrs. L. L. Dillon, Mrs. M. B. Walker, Jr., Miss Peggy Harrell, Mrs. W. B. Meekins, and Mrs. R. W. Sprull.

Any other persons having old-fashioned costumes which they would like to have shown or show themselves by participating in the tableaux should contact Mrs. L. L. Dillon, Route 1, Bayside, Va., telephone 45817.

The children of the club members, too, are becoming "fair conscious" and are designing hats for the Girl Scout millinery parade, making fashion scrapbooks, and creating drawings and paintings for the art exhibit.

MRS. FOY CASPER ATTENDS MEETING IN ALEXANDRIA

Mrs. Foy C. Casper has returned to her home in Oceana after spending a week in Washington and Alexandria. While in Alexandria she attended the American Legion Auxiliary convention held in that city.

Display Booths to Be Big Attraction At County Fair

Private enterprise will be well represented at the Princess Anne County Fair. Approximately 30 businesses from Norfolk, Berkeley, Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach will display their wares in booths scattered from one end of Seaside Park to the other.

The displays will give fair-goers a good cross section view of the goods that are bought and sold in this area. Exhibits of all types and kinds will be shown to the public.

Decorative booths of all descriptions will add color and gaiety to the exhibits and the fair as a whole.

Many of the exhibitors will give prizes or favors to the public, and others will award prizes for the various agriculture products and to special groups. Some exhibitors will attempt to attract visitors to their booths with action exhibits of their product, while others will stick to general displays.

Free Chest X-Rays Every Day at County Fair

Free chest X-Rays will be taken at the fair September 6 through 8, from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m., by the mobile X-Ray Unit. It was announced this week by Mrs. E. M. Hardy, president of the Princess Anne Chapter of the Tuberculosis Association.

A war bond will be given to the person holding the lucky X-Ray number.

"An annual chest X-Ray is a health precaution that everyone over 15 years of age should observe," Mrs. Hardy said.

Mrs. Hardy will be in charge of volunteers Wednesday, Mrs. Joel Miner will take over on Thursday, and Mrs. Frank Booker will take charge Friday. Volunteers from the association will assist in registering.

Colorful Parade To Include Bands, Floats and Guests

Speeches Wednesday Night to Mark Fair's Official Opening

"Dear Ye, Dear Ye, Come to the Fair—the grandest Fair ever held in Princess Anne County!"

By naming Wednesday, September 6 and running through Sunday, September 10, the Princess Anne Woman's Club and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club will sponsor the Princess Anne County Fair at Seaside Park.

Complete with parade, square dancing, amusements, beauty contests, and exhibits of all descriptions (see Fair Program elsewhere in this issue), the fair promises to be one of the most successful and largest ever put on in this area.

General chairman for the fair, who have worked diligently to promote the event, are Mrs. George T. Mullen, of the Woman's Club, and V. Alfred (Jack) Etheridge, of the Ruritan Club.

The fair will unofficially get underway at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday with a parade. Three high school bands, Boy Scouts, service bands, volunteer fire departments trucks, distinguished guests riding in sports convertibles, fancy floats sponsored by private business and civic organizations, and others will participate in the parade.

The colorful parade will begin at 15th Street on Atlantic Avenue, march north to 35th Street, turn west on 35th Street to Pacific Avenue where it will disband.

The fair, the second one held in this area in 25 years, will be highlighted this year with fashion shows and agricultural exhibits.

Striving to promote the farm end of the fair, the Ruritan Club, working chiefly with the agricultural department this year, has succeeded in entering a number of Angus and Hereford beef cattle, dairy exhibits, 4-H Club and Future Farmer exhibits, farm implements exhibits and numerous others.

Included in the fashion shows will be movies, a television talent hunt, teen-age scrap book judging, Tote-to-Teens Fashion Show, Fall and Winter Fashions, Associated Fur Manufacturers' Fur Fashion Show, and many others.

At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday the fair will officially begin at ceremonies at Seaside Park. Master of ceremonies will be Judge Floyd E. Kellam. The welcome address will be given by the Honorable Porter Hardy, Jr. Among the distinguished guests will be Parks Brinkley, agricultural commissioner, and Sidney S. Kellam, state conservation commissioner.

Two hours later the crowning of "Miss Princess Anne" for 1954-55 will take place. So far approximately 20 beauties from the town and county have been entered in the contest with more expected to be entered by various sponsoring organizations.

Among the top features of the fair will be the flower show, consisting of table settings by various women's clubs.

The art exhibit promises to be interesting. Paintings in oils and watercolors, pastels, black and white drawings and sketches, sculpture and ceramics, in both adult and children's classes will be exhibited in the ballroom.

On display with the art exhibits will be entries in the literary contest. Local writers will be given prizes for the best judged poem, newspaper article, short story.

SHOCKING VANDALISM

Two instances of vandalism in Princess Anne among teen-age youngsters have brought to light a very serious problem among the youth of today.

In both cases, that of the historic Thoroughgood home and the new home being built for Lieutenant Wilde in Bay Colony, the youngsters actively involved were reportedly not from Princess Anne County, although in the latter case some of our own children were said to be present.

The inexplicable urge to break and destroy and mutilate was particularly obvious in the Wilde home, when for no reason at all the boys broke windows, kicked in doors, gouged woodwork, and displayed an almost mad passion for destruction.

At the Thoroughgood home, priceless treasures of our past heritage were carried away unfeelingly; the floors and furnishings of this, the oldest home of its type in the New World, were befouled; and, if the supposition of police proves to be true, the youngsters planned to burn the historic landmark in order to cover their depredations. In this case, both boys and girls took part.

These two instances follow by months upon another instance where government explosives and other property was taken by fourteen- and fifteen-year-old boys, and hidden away at grave danger of injury to themselves and others. This case, however, can be given a reasonable explanation, for the opportunity was there, and the lads were too young to resist the temptation offered to share in explosive secrets.

The heartbreaking implications of this kind of vandalism to parents is all too clear. Somewhere along the line, someone has slipped and it is not the children!

Modern customs and mores have put less and less emphasis upon the basic principles of good citizenship and fundamental respect for law and order. In the three instances cited that have touched so close home the children involved are from every walk of life, from the less favored to those who have had every social and economic advantage.

The answer would seem to be a re-education, all along the line, from mother and father on down to the lap of the children, in an essential respect for others and the rights of others—an honoring of the traditions of one's family and one's community.

Perhaps, in short, the application of the Golden Rule would be the answer to the problem.

Sweet and Gift Shop Replaces Country Store

The Sweet and Gift Shop, a smooth sounding name given to one of the unique booths at the fair, promises to be one of the most popular attractions of this annual event.

All sorts of home-made cakes, candies, jams, and other sweets, as well as games and rooted plants have already been promised by members of the Woman's Club and their friends, according to Mrs. John Bell, chairman of the booth.

Other sweets and gifts, which are new or like new, are still needed to round out a complete selection from which visitors may choose, Mrs. Bell said. Anyone having anything suitable to donate to the booth should contact Mrs. Bell.

Last year this booth was one of the most popular at the fair, and should prove even more successful this year, she said.

The booth, which was originally named The White Elephant several weeks ago, had its name changed recently when several of the committee members objected to the name The White Elephant.

Older members of the committee besides Mrs. Bell are: Mrs. J. H. Hatch, Mrs. W. W. McCannan, Jr., Mrs. R. P. Hinton, Mrs. S. S. Keller, Mrs. H. E. Garrison, Mrs. H. O. Moore, Mrs. Marvin H. Marshall, Mrs. J. H. Proudfoot, Mrs. Frank Klepper, Mrs. E. H. Whitehurst, Mrs. Frank Atkinson, Mrs. K. L. Jard, and Mrs. Genevieve W. Shaffer.

Literary Contest One of Cultural Events of Fair

The written word can be mighty powerful. Just how powerful, original and expressive Princess Anne County writers are, will be found out at the fair.

Compositions entered in the literary contest will be judged September 5. The best compositions chosen by the judges will be on display at the fair with the art exhibit and cash prizes and ribbons will be offered for the best works. Tomorrow is the last day for writers to submit their entries.

Writers for the contest can submit a play, poem, a short story, a newspaper editorial or article, a prose composition, or a radio script.

The purpose of the contest is not only to find the talent in the county but to encourage literary effort.

Judges for the contest are: Joel Carlson, manager Station WTAZ; Grace Jordan, Virginia Beach News; and William W. Seward, Jr., professor of English, Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary.

The committee in charge of the contest is headed by Mrs. W. C. Everett, with Mrs. Carey Pennington, Mrs. Mark H. White, Mrs. Douglas Wilson and Mrs. Lewis Throm.

Prizes will consist of a first prize of $10 in each of six groups, with three ribbon prizes for runners-up. The groups are: best poems, plays, short stories, short prose, radio scripts, and newspaper articles or editorials.

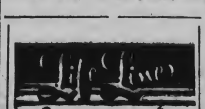

Behind the Scenes in American Business

New York—Suburbanites are being attracted by a new merchandising magnet these days—the community shopping center. According to the Urban Land Institute in Washington, D. C., which keeps track of such things, these 3-10-acre centers, everything-in-one-spot shopping malls have suddenly begun bobbing up "like cats on a log." The number is estimated well into the hundreds, the institute believes, with the current and running toward huge multi-million dollar centers which feature everything from department stores to banks, from bakeries to bookstores. No more regional development, one-stop shopping is sweeping out in communities all over the country. Farmington, Mass., a Boston suburb, is readying a $500,000, 90-shop center around a branch Jordan Marsh department store. A $4,000,000 center is going up in Great Neck, Long Island. Washington, D. C., has several projects in the works for its suburbs. Detroit is planning a 100-store center, which will have parking space for 6,000 cars. Chicago's Marshall Field & Co. is scheduling a giant $15,000,000 mart. Seattle, Los Angeles, Norfolk, and various other cities which already have suburban shopping are now planning additional centers. It's a trend that's developing fast, and one retailers would do well to watch, especially if war-boosted building material costs start coming down again.

DILEMMA—Big business seems to be caught in a switch between war production demands and the anti-trust lawyers. Business is asked on the one hand to use its wide resources to produce material and equipment for what may prove the toughest war the United States has ever been called on to fight, at the same time it's attacked by anti-trust lawyers for its very size and efficiency. Even since the outbreak of the war in Korea, the anti-trust lawyers have filed new suits against business. Despite this confused picture, American business has responded with its customary promptness and cooperation to the current emergency.

This was pointed out by Vice President John C. Brennan of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company in a recent address. Stressing the fact that all business has pledged its unreserved support of the armed forces and "every other department of our government . . . to quell the advance of Communism," Brennan recalled the gigantic production accomplishments of American business firms in World War II. And it was the executives of these firms, he said, who were the very ones called to Washington to run the war on the home front. "Many of the companies that did this great job and were praised for it are now the very companies that are being attacked as too big by the anti-trust lawyers," he added. "And they are being called upon to accomplish that herculean task once more."

THINGS TO COME—Home seamstresses should like a versatile new sewing aid, a six-inch ruler-style device with a piece of tailor's chalk at one end. The gadget sets and lines up buttons and buttonholes, measures and marks hems, ruffles, pleats, and tucks. It also eliminates the use of pins for marking. . . . For amateur camera fans, a photographic exposure computer reduces the risk of both under-and-over film exposure. . . . Another photographic innovation, a combination picture frame and wall lamp, not only makes an ideal display case for family photos but also provides excellent concealed illumination for TV viewing. . . . BITS O' BUSINESS—It may be a cold winter but it won't be a "cool" one. A shortage of hopper cars will probably mean scarcities again, say observers. . . . Higher fruit prices are in the offing. The nation's fruit crop has dipped 14 per cent below 1940 peaks. Peaches are off 31 per cent, pears and plums about 31, apples only 12 per cent. Chief reason: weather damage last winter. . . . Prompted by an increasingly insistent urge for financial security, Americans are buying mutual investment fund shares in growing numbers. Companies affiliated with Diversified Services, Inc., for example, have increased total net assets from $12,500,000 to over $715,000,000 in the past 24 years. . . . Women's Exhibits to be Judged

Wednesday, September 6
At a meeting of the Exhibit Committee in the Women's Department of the Princess Anne County Fair last Tuesday, at Seaside Park, final arrangements were made for receiving and exhibiting the work in this department. J. B. Dudley, of the Back Bay community, presided at the meeting and appointed from the general committee three secretaries who would receive the exhibits and assist the judges while the judging takes place. The three chosen were Mrs.

Crochet a "Traveling" Home

Stitches which, over time, are best of day, are dark of light and stay this charming little basket from its appointed rounds. Stitches can be put in various sizes, because it's crocheted of a soft, new all-nylon yarn called Kentucky All-Purpose. Nylon takes dye unusually well, and the yarn comes in some good clear pastel, bright and dark shades. Crochet it for summer and you'll want another for winter. Free instructions for this basket are available to anyone who sends a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Women's Editor of this paper.

Carlton Etheridge, Mrs. A. W. McClanahan and Mrs. Walter Taylor.

The committee decided that the exhibit booths would be made ready to receive exhibits by noon on Tuesday and that all articles to be judged for premiums must be brought to the exhibit building at Seaside Park Tuesday afternoon, September 5, or Wednesday morning, September 6.

The judging of all exhibits in the Women's Department will take place between 2 and 5 p.m. Wednesday so that all exhibits receiving ribbons will be on display when the fair officially opens.

Members of the committee urge all exhibitors to get their exhibits in in time for the judging.

REALLY DUPLICATING

A Senate Appropriations Committee research report recently disclosed that there are 61 separate Government printing and duplicating plants in Washington, D. C., 23 in San Francisco, 25 in Philadelphia, 16 in Chicago, 6 in Kansas City, 6 in Denver, 16 in New York, and so on.

In building your new home, leave no room for accidents.

Remember! Meat

Freezing prepared foods is easy—and you'll have them ready for hurry-up meals, for unexpected guests, and for those more-than-busy days when you don't have time to cook. It's also a help to the busy housewife, if she freezes leftovers so they are as fresh and tasty as the day they were made.

Prepare your stew, or one-dish meal, as you would for immediate serving. Cool quickly. Be sure it is cold before packaging. Pack in regular freezing containers. The square cardboard, aluminum foil, or plastic containers are especially good for stews or soups.

Virginia Brunswick Stew
2 1-lb. chickens or 1 4-lb. chicken and 4 squirrels.
12 medium onions.
5 qts. corn.
11 qts. tomatoes (peeled and cut in quarters).
½-lb. smoked bacon.

¾-lb. butter (if chickens are fat this is not necessary, but improves the flavor).

Salt, red and black pepper to taste.

Cut chicken in pieces and cover with water. Cook with bacon until very tender. Remove bones, cut chicken in large pieces. Add vegetables. Season to taste. Simmer until tender. Chill and freeze. The use of one-half-squirts, and one-half the chicken is thought by many to improve the flavor. This recipe makes 20 to 25 quarts.

Spanish Rice

Brown one pound of lean beef in two tablespoons fat with one large onion and one green pepper (chopped). Add one cup of uncooked rice and four cups tomatoes. Simmer until rice is done, add salt and pepper to taste. Chill until cold. Package to freeze. To serve, stew, heat until boiling and serve at once.

Immediate Storage Best for Apples
Apples picked at the best stage of maturity and stored immediately are longer-lived, according to tests at Virginia Experiment Station.

Crocheted Soaker For New Arrivals

Nylon yarn is something new for baby things. It's economical, soft against the skin, and shrink-resistant. This little baby soaker is an ideal gift for your own or a friend's baby. Crochet it in white, with two skeins of Kentucky All-Purpose nylon yarn, and put the colored ribbons in at the last minute. If you're doing it "on speculation," free instructions are available for making this soaker and detachable bib. Just send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Women's Page Editor of this paper.

Tricot knit rayon looks new and different this year, with good-looking designs knitted into the fabric. This fabric, made with Avicel rayon yarn, is a "natural" for vacations, because it's washable, quick-drying and needs a minimum of ironing care. For tips on ironing rayon fabric, send for the free leaflet, "How to Iron Rayon." Just send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Women's Editor of this paper.

observing the storage life of apples stored in seven experimental cold storage rooms. Winesap and red sports of Delicious, Stayman, and York apples were used in the tests.

Commercially recommended "early" and "optimum" maturity pickings were made on York and Stayman apples. The early pickings showed considerable scalding. Fruit stored one week after picking was yellower, softer, and generally of poorer eating quality than the apples stored normally after harvesting and packing.

Ripening tests and shelf life studies of apples held at 33 deg., 38 deg., and 46 deg., showed the 33 deg. storage resulted in a higher quality for a longer time.

Apples held at 33 deg. in 5 per cent carbon dioxide and 3 per cent oxygen had an appreciably longer storage life than those held in normal air at 32 deg.

Out of the Frying Pan Final Play by Theatre-Go-Round

Entire Company Has Part in Relucting Farce-Comedy

by George Hecht
Last night at the blue and yellow tent on 31st Street the "outlets went up" on the final play of the season at Theatre-Go-Round, the popular summer stock company which has been operating here since June 29. The first-night audience witnessed a fast-paced and exhilarating performance of Francis Swann's farce-comedy, "Out of the Frying Pan," the tenth play to be offered this year by producers Robert O'Flaherty and Lesley Savage.

"Out of the Frying Pan" will continue nightly at Theatre-Go-Round through Tuesday, September 5, the last day of the company's season at the Beach. Those wishing to see the company's final play are advised to secure their tickets in advance, inasmuch as large Labor Day week-end crowds will be claiming many of the seats.

The story of "Out of the Frying Pan" concerns six young actors—three boys and three girls—who are sharing an apartment in New York City. They have been driven to this community scheme by lack of economic security.

It is a worthy play they have in mind for the apartment they rent is immediately above that of a Broadway producer who has quite a bit running and is about to cast a road company. They rehearse the play which he is currently producing, but the problem is—how to get him upstairs to see it?

In the roles of the six young thespians are Lou Primell, Joe Bush, Robert O'Flaherty, Thomas Gelling, Paulette San Marchi and Marianne Duett. Miss Gelling will be remembered for her characterization of Miriam, the kid sister in "Dear Ruth."

Rena Martens, who scored last week as Mrs. Cliveden-Banks in "Outward Bound," is playing the housekeeper, Mrs. Garnet, who is forced to put up with the shenanigans of the youngsters. Lesley Savage, who has played many leads this summer in addition to directing the group's presentation of "Harvey," is seen as Muriel Foster, the tattletale friend of Dotie's.

Robert Philippe is cast as Dotie's father, a snobbish and successful business man who, in a surprise visit to the apartment, is both bewildered and aghast at the unusual living arrangement.

The company's popular character actor, Romeo Miller, functions this week as the dignified Mr. Kenny, the producer. Charles Cagle is playing the policeman who on several occasions tries to take charge of the extra ordinary goings-on. Cagle's characterization

Art Exhibition At County Fair for Adults, Children

Many Classes Offer Cash Prizes and Ribbons to Winners

Henrietta Hoops Heath, prominent American artist, who has recently become a resident of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, John Davis Hatch, director of the Norfolk Museum of Arts and Sciences, and E. M. Eide, head of the Norfolk Art Center, have been named judges for the art exhibition to be held at the Princess Anne County Fair.

Paintings in oils and watercolor, pastels, black and white drawings and sketches, sculpture and ceramics in both adult and children's classes will be on display at the fair, with prizes for winners in each type and age group.

With nearly one hundred entries last year, and many more expected for this year's fair, the art exhibit promises to be of interest to all.

Everything entered must be brought and called for by the exhibitor. The time to call for works will be between 7 and 8 p.m. on Sunday, September 10. All pictures must be framed and ready for hanging. All works must be original (no copies of any works of any description).

A first prize of $10.00 and ribbons for second and third place winners in the adult class will be awarded in the following categories: oils, pastels, black and white, water colors and sculpture.

In the children's class the first prize will be $5.00 and ribbons for second and third place winners.

In the ceramics department a first prize of $10.00 for the adult class and $5.00 for the children's class, with ribbons for the second and third place winners, will be awarded.

There will also be a popular prize to be determined by the public.

of Teddy Brewster, the bugle-blowing brother in "Arsenic and Old Lace," will be remembered by all who saw the play.

Director Jon Dawson points out that all the actors in the popular company are seen this week in the uproarious comedy. Everyone, that is, except himself. This week Dawson, has restricted his own activities to the directorial end, having both directed and played in several of the group's previous presentations.

Performances of "Out of the Frying Pan" will be given nightly at 8:40 p.m. through Tuesday.

NEW YORK DRESS DESIGNER VISITING BEACH TO SHOW FASHIONS AT THE BRAEMAR

Baroness Helen de Huene, New York dress designer, is blending business and pleasure in her present visit to Virginia Beach.

Madame de Huene, who has had many years of Paris experience in the fashion world, is staying at the Braemar where she is presenting some of her collection of winter and summer fashion designs to the women of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

Five Fashion Features, Sunday, Doris Day, Designer, To Appear

Five fashion features, directed by Alice Brewer White, woman's director of WJAN and WJAN-TV, will be shown at the Princess Anne County Fair, with the Sunday afternoon fashion show, at which Doris Day, famous movie and stage star, will make an appearance the highlight of the series.

With the cooking school from 10:30 till noon and a fashion presentation at 3 p.m., followed by the fur fashion show motion picture, September 7, 8 and 9, women visitors to the fair will have new all-day free attractions this year which were not featured last year, and all included in the price of the admission ticket to the fair.

Homemakers and 4-H boys from all over the county are planning to model their own home-made fashions on September 6. Elizabeth Lee, home economist for Virginia Electric and Power; Mrs. Sue Worley, tailor and dressmaker; and Barbara Hall, assistant home demonstration agent for Norfolk County, have been invited to judge this fashion showing. Jane Craig, Princess Anne County home demonstration agent, will be the co-commentator with Mrs. White. Four prizes will be given to the women's group and four to the teen-agers as follows: for the best basic dress, the best feed bag dress, the best tailored garment (suit, dress or coat for women), and best party dress (for teens), and a prize to each group for the dress representing the best workmanship.

The Millinery March, with Girl Scouts and Brownies vying for prizes in the hat designing contest, and the Lady Goda's Fashion Tableaux by the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club, will be Saturday afternoon's presentation.

Mary Tobin's Tots-to-Teens Ball Fashion Show, presented on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m., augmented by a Dance Divertissement of Shirley Dunn's students, will be one of the most outstanding fashion events. Tiny tots, pre-teens and teens will model the latest dress-up and school clothes, with ten-year-old Patsy Johnson, of Oceana, assisting Mrs. White with the commentary.

This will be followed by the presentation of the Betty Beta fashion awards to the teen-agers whose fashion scrapbooks have been judged the best and second best for content and general appearance, the best fashion material and second best, the most original presentation and for the scrapbook with the most fashion material assembled. Vera Trexler Wilcox, former teen-age editor for the Ledger-Dispatch, will be assisted by Jackie Hanna and Maxine Hofheimer, teen-age editors, in judging and awarding these prizes.

Every day of the fair, Thursday through Sunday, at 4 p.m., in the Fashion Hall (the ballroom) an elaborate 1950 Fur Fashion motion picture will be shown free of charge through the courtesy of the Association of Fur Manufacturers. This is a thirty-minute feature showing the glamorous fur fashion show presented in the Waldorf-Astoria ballroom in New York City in July. $40,000 was spent in the production of this glamorous fur show and forty of New York's top fashion models are seen in the film, wearing every type of fur and fur coat imaginable.

As special decorations about the Fashion Hall, throughout the fair, over a thousand fall and winter fashion photographs will be on display showing the latest creations and designs by foremost designers in coats, dresses, suits, furs, hats, accessories, shoes, lingerie and fabrics. Eleanor Lambert, fashion authority and publicist, has assembled this collection of photographs for the Princess Anne County Fair through the co-operation of the designers and the New York Dress Institute.

But don't get it wrong. There'll be plenty of livestock, farm and educational exhibits, an art and literature display, unusual table settings, flower arrangements, handicraft, needlework, 4-H boys and girls exhibits, TV talent auditions, square dancing, old fashioned homemade food bars, fun and the new "Miss Princess Anne" at the fair, too!

LOVELY AND DESIGNING—Beautiful Doris Day, radio and screen star as well as top flight fur fashion designer, will appear on the Sunday fashion show as one of three celebrities who will be guests of Alice Brewer White, director of the show. Miss Day will fly here in her own plane to attend the fair.

Garden Clubs to Add Beauty and Color to Fair

Flower Show to be Table Decorations; All Clubs Take Part

While other departments are busy planning gaiety for the fair, the various garden clubs in the county and town will be adding color.

The flower show this year will consist of beautifully decorated breakfast, luncheon or tea table settings. This type of arrangement, according to club leaders, is becoming popular throughout the country.

Judging will begin at 10:30 a.m. Friday, September 8, in the ballroom at Seaside Park. Mrs. H. O. Bernstrom is general chairman of the flower show.

Mrs. H. E. Gildwell and Mrs. C. W. Griffin, president and vice president respectively of the Federation of Garden Clubs for Norfolk and vicinity, and Mrs. E. D. DuVal, president of the Virginia State Accredited Judges Association, have been named as judges. Mrs. Bernstrom said that she feels fortunate in securing the services of these judges, all of whom are members of the Virginia State Accredited Judges Association and prominently known for the knowledge of judging.

Ribbons will be awarded and also a cash award will be made to the outstanding exhibitor. Clubs which have already indicated their intentions of entering and the Bay Colony Garden Club, Covington Garden Club, Lakeside Garden Club, Virginia Beach Garden Club, Princess Anne Garden Club, Bird Rock Garden Club, Lynnhaven Garden Club, Ocean Park Garden Club and Ocean View Garden Club.

Mrs. Masury to Direct First Little Theatre Offering

Try-Outs to be Held September 11-12 for First Play of Season

Mrs. Arthur Masury has been appointed director of the first show to be produced by the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach for the 1950-51 season. Following the resignation of Miss Carol Simpson, who was one of the co-organizers of the Little Theatre, and who also directed the nine plays presented during its first two years, the board of directors, meeting August 22, decided to call for volunteer directors for each show. This method has been highly successful in Hampton. The directors hope that it will also succeed here and that talent hitherto undiscovered will come to light in answer to the call for volunteers.

Rhythmairs to Play For Square Dance Saturday Night

The Rhythmairs will play at the square dance Saturday night, September 9 in the ballroom of Seaside Park, it was announced this week by the chairman of the event, Mrs. R. H. Owen.

Led by Norman Riddick, the six piece band is a favorite with organizations in Norfolk, having played at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club, the Hague Club, the Navy YMCA, and others.

Bill Detmerman, of Norfolk, will call the figures, while Peck Gilbert, a local boy, will assist him.

A cash prize will be given the most appropriately dressed person and prize for the second best will be awarded.

Admission to the dance will be free and everyone is invited to "swing your partner" at the Princess Anne County Fair.

Billboard Advertising Restrictions Cited

Billboard advertising may well have its place, but the State Highway Department definitely says that place is not on State right-of-way.

The department this week reminded advertisers of a State Highway Commission regulation which declares that "no advertising signs of any description" will be allowed within the right-of-way.

Violation of the regulation is a misdemeanor, the department pointed out, and the guilty party is subject to fines ranging between five and one hundred dollars.

The department explained that billboards off the right-of-way are perfectly legal—but under State law a permit is required for all signs visible from a public highway.

The Navy is building a giant bimp for anti-submarine warfare and plans three more.

Public Meeting on High School Question Set for Tuesday

The School Committee of the Town Council of Virginia Beach will sponsor a public meeting to be held at the Community House, 10th and Arctic Avenue, Tuesday, September 5, at 8 p.m.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the reasons and need for the proposed high school which is to be voted on in a referendum set for Tuesday, September 19.

It is the desire and hope of the School Committee and all citizens of the town will show their interest by being present on Tuesday night, September 5, W. W. McChanan, chairman of the School Committee, said. The School Committee, as well as the entire council and mayor, are extremely anxious that the citizens will vote overwhelmingly for the new high school, he said.

Soldier Reported Missing in Action Writes Parents

Word has been received from Private Clinton Jennings Pritchard, Jr., who was reported missing in action by the War Department, which indicates that he is safe.

Young Pritchard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Pritchard, of 318 26th Street, were notified that their son was missing in action since July 30. The notification came on August 18. On Wednesday of this week, Mrs. Pritchard received a letter from her son from Korea, which was dated August 18 and postmarked August 24, a month after the young soldier was reported missing from his group.

His letter indicated that he knew nothing about the notification to his parents.

Red Cross Chapter Gets Second Call for Blood for Korea

The Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross has received a second call to send blood to the Korean battlefield.

Frank Kellam, blood program chairman for the local Red Cross chapter, has been informed that General Douglas MacArthur has acknowledged receipt of the blood that was shipped to Korea last week. Mr. Kellam states that a second shipment was shipped this week.

The Bloodmobile Unit will be at the Community House, 18th and Arctic Avenue, all day September 11, for those who wish to donate blood to be sent to Korea.

James Kontopanos is in charge of solicitation and those interested may call him, Phone 1277, or the Red Cross Office, Phone 938.

The "torpedoes" referred to by Admiral David Glasgow Farragut during the Battle of Mobile Bay, "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead!" were actually mines.

Motorists Warned To Watch Out for School Children

With the reopening of Virginia schools after Labor Day, hundreds of large AAA posters announcing "School's Open!—Driving or Walking, Take It Easy," will be displayed prominently throughout the area as a warning to motorists.

The Tidewater Automobile Association is distributing the posters in the hope that they will remind drivers to be extra cautious when many hundreds of children walk more on city streets going to and from school.

"Motorists should always consider a child on the sidewalk or crossing the street as a human caution sign and be governed accordingly," John B. Dey, vice president of TAA, said. "While children are taught safe walking rules in the classroom, the natural exuberance of youth often offsets this training with tragic results. Precautions to protect school children from traffic accidents are taken by stationing school safety patrol members or police officers at many intersections during the hours when children are going to and from school," Mr. Dey continued. "At both this type of crossing and at unprotected crossings, motorists have the responsibility of helping to protect children from traffic accidents by driving cautiously," Mr. Dey stressed.

"Beginning the opening day of school and continuing for several weeks, the 'School's Open' posters will be displayed at various outdoor locations, in store windows, garages, etc," he said.

On May 8, 1911, the U. S. Navy wrote its first requisition for a wood, canvas and bamboo airplane capable of flying at least 45 mph.

Bird Neck Garden Club Is Granted 'Benefit Night'

Theatre-Go-Round Sets Sunday Night for Benefit Performance

The Bird Neck Garden Club has secured a block of tickets for a benefit performance of the comedy, "Out of the Frying Pan," on Sunday night, September 3, at the Theatre-Go-Round on 31st Street.

The Bird Neck Garden Club will receive a percentage on all tickets sold by club members, according to Mrs. Cecil Meers.

"Quite a number at the Beach are regular habitués of the Theatre-Go-Round," she said, "and if these persons, together with other residents and visitors can arrange to see the performance on Sunday night, it will be greatly appreciated by the club. This is our initial attempt to raise money for the club. A number of calls have been made on the general fund for worthwhile purposes, and the cooperation of all garden club members and others in the community is asked for this venture."

Tickets can be secured by calling Mrs. Floyd Lee Smith, phone 2386-W, Mrs. Meers at 1211, or other members of the club.

The Theatre-Go-Round has been most generous in awarding benefit performances, Mrs. Meers added, and it has made available the opportunity to enjoy well-known plays, with a superb cast to the residents of this area.

"Speaking on behalf of the Bird Neck Garden Club and the community as a whole, we hope to welcome the cast of the Theatre-Go-Round next summer," she said.

New Fall Fur Fashion Information For Women Attending The Fair
 year to buy a coat?
 What every woman should know about furs has been compiled by the Associated Fur Manufacturers, and Eleanor Lambert, their press director, as a knowledge capsule for fur shoppers, Fall 1949-1950.
 New fur facts combined with long time truths that protect you from making expensive and heartbreaking mistakes in your selection are included in the association's annual 10-question fur primer.
 1. Q. What is the first step in purchasing a fur coat?
 A. The most important thing is to go to a reliable furrier, then decide on price, style, and kind of fur coat desired. For the large, heavy woman, flat furs, such as caracul, mink or Persian lamb are the most flattering. For the small woman, the style chosen should be in proportion to her size, and of simple, fairly classic type.
 2. Q. When is the best time of day, September 10, at noon, in time for an afternoon personal appearance in the Princess Anne

 Mrs. Dengel will come to the from Hollywood.

 She is consulting with the beauty and body-building directors of RKO, Twentieth-Century Fox,

 In announcing that Mrs. Dengel would be the third celebrity guest for the Sunday show—appearing with Doris Day, stage and screen star, and Sylvan Rich, well-known fashion designer—Alice Brewer White, fashion chairman of the fair, said, "It is a most fortunate last-minute decision Mrs. Dengel has made in her itinerary back from the West Coast to include a stop over at Virginia Beach."

 One of the famous Harry Conover models, Kitty Steele, will be always carry your bag over your arm at the same place each time you wear your coat. Try to distribute the wear your coat will take.

 6. Q. Can worn spots on my fur coat be replaced with new skins?
 A. Yes. Fortunately, a fur coat, unlike a fabric coat, can have worn spots replaced with new skins without impairing the beauty of the coat.
 7. Q. What should I do if my coat sheds hair?
 A. The hairs of some furs break off naturally. Some are much more prone to have fur break than others. The hairs rarely come out.
 Usually, however, what you think is breaking hair or shedding is apt to be loose hair the furrier has failed to remove. Take it back to your furrier.
 8. Q. What about fading?
 A. Both natural and dyed furs, like fabrics, change color in time if exposed to direct sunlight. However, this change can be retarded by exercising care. White furs, such as fox and ermine, change to a slightly yellow tint which can often be remedied by your furrier.
 Mink, marten, and other brown furs whether natural or dyed, become lighter in color. They can be blended, that is the color restored, by brushing it on lightly.
 9. Q. What about fur storage?
 A. Storing furs at home is not advisable. Moths get to them, and temperature changes cannot be scientifically controlled. Cold storage is the best method in general use, but always go to a reliable concern.
 10. Q. Can I wear perfume to my fur?
 A. Never put perfume directly on the fur fibers, but spray it in the lining for delightful fragrance when you wear coat.

Princess Anne Woman's Club And Ruritan Club Express Appreciation For Fair Work

The Princess Anne County Fair, the largest town and county gathering of the year, will open next Wednesday for the second time in 12 years. Co-sponsors of the big event will be the Princess Anne County Woman's Club and the Ruritan Club of Princess Anne County.

On display will be examples of the agricultural, educational and cultural life of the county and its people—the general advancement and progress of the community. The Woman's Club

The Woman's Club was first organized in 1925 when several women got together and decided to solve the Home Demonstration Club of Kemperville into the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County.

At a later meeting, held at the Experiment Station on October 20, 1925, all women who were interested in the formation of such an organization were invited to attend. Thirty-five women, representing several districts in the county, showed so much enthusiasm, that it was decided by unanimous vote to elect officers and make the work county-wide.

Since that time the club has had presidents and grown to include departments including fine arts, American home, community service, civic education, public affairs, garden club and citizenship.

Mrs. A. E. Ewell was the club's first president, from 1925 to 1929. Her presidents have been Mrs.

B. Taylor, Mrs. R. W. Pinger, A. Mrs. H. O. Brown, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. H. H. Herbert, Mrs. Blair Poteste, Mrs. W. Messum, Mrs. Wallace Clark, Mrs. Russell Hatchell, Mrs. George C. Cannon, and the current president, Mrs. Kermit Land. Last year the club worked hard and long to give the county and town a fair that would entertain and be representative of this area: was the largest project of its kind ever put on by the club. This year, acting as co-sponsors with the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, they are making the fair the best ever held in this area.

Working along with the Princess Anne Woman's Club, originators of the fair, the Ruritan Club of Princess Anne County, with V. Alfred Etheridge as general chairman and R. C. Etheridge, president, has worked hard this year to promote greater agricultural interest through more farm exhibits.

Both the Woman's Club and the Ruritan Club this week expressed their gratitude for the splendid cooperation by members of the clubs and volunteers.

"I wish to express my sincere thanks for the work and cooperation that we have gotten. If the work of the members and volunteers is any indication, the town and county can look forward to a successful fair," Jack Etheridge said.

Dedicated to the promotion and aid of underprivileged groups and non-profit organizations, the Ruritan Club has carried out many projects furthering this aim. Recalling the beginnings of the club, Mr. Etheridge said that the first Ruritan Club in the country was formed some 20 years ago in Holland, Virginia.

The Princess Anne Club, which was disbanded during the last war, Mr. Etheridge said, was reactivated in 1946 at the Princess Anne Court House. The club at that time was re-formed with 40 members. Since then it has grown to 110 members to become one of the largest Ruritan clubs in the nation.

Approximately one-third of the Princess Anne Club is made up of farmers, with the remainder being business and professional men.

Last year, in addition to many other projects, the club gave a large outlay to the Princess Anne schools and began the now popular Ruritan Softball League.

Since 1946, the presidents of the club have been M. G. Bright, Col. Cam. Brady, Bill Kellam, and R. C. Etheridge.

play, prose composition, and radio script.

In the always popular food bar, homemade foods and delicacies will be served to the public. The finest cooks in the county plan to help with the food bar.

A cooking school will be conducted in the ballroom by a local utility company. The school will be held at 10:30 each morning for all that are interested.

Saturday night a square dance will be held. The Rhythmatics, of Norfolk, will provide the music. In keeping with the fair idea, there will be a giant display of fireworks at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Overall, the fair shapes up to be representative of county interest and cultural life, with all sorts of entertainment and special exhibits planned.

Susan Roberts Becomes Bride of A. C. Reed, Jr., Saturday In Norfolk

The marriage of Miss Susan Boyd Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walker Roberts, to Augustus Crenshaw Reed, Jr., son of Mrs. Augustus Crenshaw Reed and the late Mr. Reed, took place Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Freeborn Street Baptist Church. The Rev. Stuart W. Melton, D. D., pastor, performed the ceremony. The church was decorated with white gladioli, pink and white chrysanthemums, cathedral candles and candelabra. The wedding music was played by Mrs. John Wesley Towne.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of ivory duchesse satin. The full skirt flared at the waist and the tight bodice buttoned up the back with self-covered buttons with a deep yoke of nylon tulle and a wide bertha of rose point lace belonging to the family. The veil of ivory imported illusion fell from a coronet of lace and pearls worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and tuberoses centered with a purple tipped white orchid.

Mrs. Alfred Parker Neff was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Sydney Sue Overstreet, Miss Eleanor Avery Graham, of Chevy Chase, Md.; Miss Janet Robertson Gilchrist, of Washington, D. C.; and Miss Elizabeth Burns Woolis, of Alexandria, cousin of the bride. The attendants were dressed alike in mauve satin made with full gathered skirts and tight bodices with bands of pink tulle and matching short satin jackets with horseshoe necklines. They carried bouquets of mixed summer flowers and wore arrangements of matching flowers in their hair.

Lloyd Butler Thomas, of Westminster, Md., cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Davis Willis Jordan, Jr., of Richmond, cousin of the bridegroom; William Pettit Dodson, Jr., of Virginia Beach; James Walker Roberts, Jr., brother of the bride; Thomas Marshall Whittemore and Thomas MacNamara.

The mother of the bride wore champagne lace over matching tulle, a small coat of matching tulle and a lavender orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of aquamarine lace over satin, a calot of matching lace and a lavender orchid corsage.

A reception at the Commissioned Officers' Golf Club followed the ceremony. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Reed left for a wedding trip to the mountains of Virginia, after which they will make their home in Morehead City, N. C. The bride's traveling costume was a peacock blue shantung suit, brown velvet hat, brown lizard accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Getman and children returned Monday to their home in Athens, Ga., after visiting Mrs. Getman's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Aldridge, at their home on Mediterranean Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Aldridge also had as their guests last week-end Mr. Aldridge's mother, Mrs. Harvey Aldridge, of Kinston, N. C., and Mrs. W. B. Winstead and daughter, of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Thomas Wood, of Alexandria, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Lawrence and son, Thomas, will arrive today to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Hunt at their home on 74th Street.

Mrs. Agnes Broumley has left for her home in Baltimore, Md., after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Hunt at their home on 74th Street.

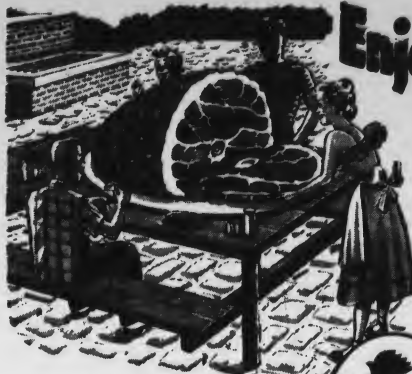

Dr. and Mrs. Julius Ruffin and three daughters have returned to their home in Durham, N. C., after visiting Dr. Ruffin's mother, Mrs. Edmund Ruffin, at her cottage on 39th Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryland Washington, of Baltimore, Md., are spending some time at the Arlington.

Miss Anne Rixey, of Norfolk, was the guest this week of Miss Kirkland Tucker, at her home in Rudee Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustin Todd, of Washington, D. C., are spending some time at the Arlington.

Miss Martha Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Coleman Carr, of Lynnhaven, left Wednesday for Richlands, Va., where she has accepted a position as teacher in the Richlands High School. She will also teach dancing, the classes being sponsored by the Intermediate Woman's Club of that city. Miss Carr is a graduate of Oceana High School and of Mary Washington College, Class of 1950.

Enjoy LABOR DAY ...the Laborless Way!

Spend Labor Day out of doors. Plan a picnic around a delicious smoked ham from your nearby Colonial Store. They're juicy, tender, and full-flavored. Surround the ham with Colonial's other picnic-prizes—crisp potato chips, sweet and sour pickles, fresh cole slaw, hard-boiled eggs, lettuce, tomatoes, and plenty of Our Pride sandwich bread to encourage the feasters to make their own sandwiches. Be sure to bake your ham a day or two ahead of time, so that a Labor Day of hearty eating will still be your day to play!

DIAGNOSIS

(Editor's Note: The following editorial from a Miami newspaper was sent to the Virginia Beach News by one of its readers with the comment: "Will all these things some day be said about Virginia Beach?" We are reprinting the editorial for you because we believe it to be, not only excellently written, but also sound in its conclusions.)

The Kefauver Report on the civic evils that beset this community has stimulated public reaction similar to a searching analysis by an expert diagnostician of a patient who has long known that something was eating away at his vitals but refuses to admit the disease or seek a remedy for it.

Dade County's civic conscience was shaken by the degree and the extent of the corruption which the interim Senate report revealed. This first reaction has now settled into a realization that the disease is curable, that every fact laid bare demonstrates in itself that the people have in their hands the power and the remedy to cast out the evil thing and restore Dade County to the civic health and decency which it has hitherto lacked.

We now see ourselves as others see us. We have had a dispassionate, searching, clear-eyed analysis of what ails us. The Kefauver report confirmed what many knew to be a government-destroying situation.

Others sensed the evil but they could not get a proper perspective on the conditions that surround them. It was the continued purpose of underworld policy to beloud issues, to smear and denounce those who attempted to bring public attention to the awful thing that was at work in corrupting law enforcement and administrative officials.

The Senate Committee's report confirms everything that has been said or sensed of the stranglehold organized hoodlumism has had on this community.

It goes even further. It discloses a state of official rottenness that amazes even those who have long been aware of conditions.

A community long duped by elected official-gangster propaganda about the need for a "liberal policy," in the deliberative calm that now succeeds the first shock of the report's revelations, should go over again this observation of the Senate Committee:

"The question is not whether gambling or any other form of illegal activity is morally good or bad. It is, rather, that we must weigh the full evil effects upon the body politic of permitting powerful groups of criminals to utilize the channels of interstate commerce for the purpose of controlling illegal enterprises, when it is clear that these groups now obtain and have always secured their power by using violence and intimidation, attempting to corrupt and control local government; and obtaining overbearing economic power by amassing great wealth through non-payment of taxes and by means of monopoly."

The Kefauver Committee describes in its menacing ugliness exactly what the "liberal" policy has done to undermine the government of this community. It groups its effects under a single heading: "Miami." It covers, however, the "general patterns" of organized criminal activity in Broward and Dade counties and the city of Miami Beach as well.

The lawabiding of this community, for their own and their families' protection and for the safeguarding of local government, should thoroughly study the pattern of criminal activity here as stated in the report:

1—Groups of known gangsters from diverse sections of the country, many of whom have long criminal records, assemble primarily at Miami Beach.

2—These racketeers operate various gambling and bookmaking establishments openly and notoriously in clear violation of Florida law and apparently with the full knowledge of the entire community including law-enforcement officers, who in some cases incredibly insisted to the Committee that they had no knowledge of the operations.

3—in Miami Beach a group of five local residents, through a syndicate known as S and G have controlled the racing-wire service and the bookmaking establishments for a number of years.

4—The S and G Syndicate operated with the protection of the Miami Beach Police Department and of the Dade County sheriff and apparently under cover of a complacent City Council, at least one of whose members was proven to have had profitable financial dealings with syndicate members.

The sheriff of Dade County had done nothing effective to enforce the Florida laws against gambling. Several members of his staff testified as to actual financial corruption in his office involving him and his chief deputies.

These are the patterns of corruption. They could not have developed if "many citizens of Florida" had not "become complacent, regarding gambling as 'good for business' apparently unaware of what was happening to their local government."

We know now the facts and the greatness of our civil illness. We are as sick of them as only the frightened sick person can be aware of a searching diagnosis of his internal ills. The cure is with us. We don't have to wait further for action or advice from the physician.

SCHOOL TIME AGAIN

The schools of Princess Anne County took up this week for their 1950 session.

We are a reminder to all motorists to remember that there are many children on the roads and streets on their way to and from school. Take care in your driving, Mr. and Mrs. Motorist. Watch carefully that the school kids may be safe. Abide by the laws that govern stopping when a school bus stops, and staying stationary until the school bus moves on. Watch the street corners and the school zones, and govern your speed accordingly. Make the town and the county safe for our children.

Letters to Editor

Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Sirs:

Last week we advertised our plans for a booth at the County Fair. We advertised the free gifts that the public would receive and the demonstrations that Tidewater Gas would offer. This we did because our plans were made for a booth at the Fair.

NOW, our face is very red, because we have received the following letter from Mr. Land:

Princess Anne County Fair
Virginia Beach, Virginia

August 31, 1950

Tidewater Gas Company
Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Sir:

Upon returning home after a few days vacation, I found on my desk a note from Bill Everett, stating that he had been over to Seaside Park with Horace Simmons and that you wanted to rent Booth No. 26.

We are very sorry we are not able to rent you this booth since we have promised Esso-lene that we would not have but one bottle gas exhibit. In consideration of this, they are putting on a cooking school and various other things.

This does not apply only to the gas industry, for we have promised others that we would only sell one booth in their particular line. Mr. Everett knew nothing of this at the time and I am very sorry for any inconvenience that this may have caused you.

Princess Anne County Fair
Booth Committee
By: K. S. Land, Chairman

In that Esso-lene is an out-of-town, out-of-county concern, we feel that the Booth Committee is not carrying out the idea of a County Fair in refusing to give Home Industry at least an equal chance to meet outside competition.

Again we apologise to the public. Our loss is financial—their loss is educational.

Very truly yours,
RAY CASSETT,
TIDEWATER GAS CO.

Virginia Beach News
Gentlemen:

What a shame! Our beautiful beach south of the Boardwalk is littered with garbage, beer cans, bottles and trash! What can we do about it? Would it help for the city to place refuse cans at regular intervals where this stretch of the beach is not properly patrolled? Through attractive signs we might appeal to those who use this beach to CARE ENOUGH to keep it clean.

Sincerely,
"READY TO HELP"

C & P Directors Vote Expenditures for Expansion Projects

Expenditures of $1,105,000 for the improvement and expansion of telephone facilities in the areas served by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia were authorized recently by the board of directors.

An expenditure of $225,000 was approved for the installation of additional equipment in the company's Alexandria dial center. The addition will bring to completion installation of the fourth dial unit in this office.

In the Cape Charles area an expenditure of $113,000 was approved for the provision of additional cable facilities for Kiptopeke Beach and Chertok. The project involves the placing of more than 19 miles of aerial cable.

STONES AREL

By Ted Kasting

Americans have been strongly sold on packaged products. Perhaps that's why the average sportsman believes he can buy a knowledge of first aid and the equipment of a small hospital by paying a fancy price for a gorgeously wrapped box of medical appliances. But first aid cannot be packed in packages, nor can knowledge of first aid be squeezed into a pamphlet or a 300-page book.

As for the contents of the average first-aid kit, Dr. Paul Fluck insists that, dollar for dollar, first-aid equipment can be purchased far more economically when it is selected item by item. Here's what he thinks a kit should contain:

One 10-yard roll of one-inch adhesive. This is big enough to provide for lots of injuries and to serve in other emergencies as well. Adhesive tape can pinch hit for a missing reel seal. It can bind splinters fast to dry rods, and cover the splintered edges of a boat seat. And you can't do that with the doll-sized can of adhesive supplied in the average kit.

For an antiseptic, he uses tincture of Metaphen, although Merthiolate and a number of other modern antiseptics are equally effective. Tincture of iodine did a great job in its day, but medical research laboratories have developed far better germ killers. Then include some toothpicks and a small package of cotton, lightly wrapped, so you can make your own swabs. Have at least three rolls of two-inch bandage and a couple of rolls of one-inch in your kit. Buy a dozen three-inch squares of sterile gauze in envelopes, and the best pair of scissors you can afford.

When packing your kit, give a thought to your personal ailments. Your doctor can give you pills that will check diarrhea or a headache, and whatever else he thinks you should carry. You should also take along some water-purifying tablets if your water will come directly from streams, lakes and springs.

Here's a special warning to sportsmen: tetanus, or lockjaw, is one of the 10 worst diseases afflicting man. Every splinter, every misguided knife blade, every wire fence barb, every bullet, every grain of shot, every burn wound can carry billions of lockjaw spores into the human body. But how many sportsmen ever take a precaution against this? Two injections of tetanus toxoid by your doctor, with a "booster" shot every year or so, will give you immunity.

Destroyers are named for deceased persons in the following categories: Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, personnel who rendered distinguished service to their country. Secretaries and Assistant Secretaries of the Navy, and members of Congress who were closely identified with naval affairs.

Submarines in the U. S. Navy are named for fish and denizens of the deep.

Youth Group Forms State Organization

A new state organization, "Virginia Young Men and Women's Club," has been formed, with Thomas M. Tucker, of Amherst County, as its head.

The announcement was made by W. W. Eare, older rural youth specialist at V. P. I., who said the preliminary plans for organization were made, and the officers elected, at the older rural youth camp held at Camp Farrar recently.

Other officers named are: Raymond Kite, Culpeper, first vice president; Harold Allen, Jr., Nottingham, second vice president; Service Purvis, Goodland, secretary; and Evelyn Butler, Louisa, treasurer.

The organization, Mr. Eare explained, will coordinate the activities of local community and county young men and women's clubs, and will plan for state and district events of interest to rural young people. The officers will meet some time in September with Mr. Eare.

He said that more than 100 youths from 20 counties attended the camp.

Thinking of the Long Pull?

Better Buy Buick!

If that car of yours has put its best days behind it, there's no time like right now to think about starting out afresh with a taut, new, up-to-the-minute motorcar with all its mileage still in it.

And there's no better place in the world to start than with the beauty pictured here, for a variety of reasons.

For one thing, this Buick SPECIAL is a quick-stopping Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight that's priced lower than some sizes.

For another, it's built with typical Buick ruggedness through and through — a husky that can take a lot of years without crying "Unele!"

Then, too — this high-styled beauty is proving to be one of the most economical Buicks ever built — easy on gas, easy on upkeep, easy on you in its soft, floating, light-handling comfort.

It even comes with Dynaflo Drive* if you like — and Dynaflo means that you will never have to service or replace a friction clutch, and that rear-end or transmission servicing — even engine upkeep — are cut to a minimum.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buick models.

Of course, you can't see all of this in the brief span of a trial drive.

But you can experience the good solid feel of Buick strength beneath you. You can satisfy yourself on the lightness of the controls, the utter smoothness of Dynaflo, the quick surge of Buick's Fireball power.

All such things will tell you that this is a car you'll be glad to live with for a long time to come — and you need only to ask your Buick dealer for a demonstration to see precisely what we mean.

Why not call on him soon to talk about signing up?

FOLKS, the kids are going back to school, full of pep after a swell vacation—and Mom gets a rest!

SAFE DRIVING is an every-day duty . . . but we all need to be even more careful during school seasons. Just drive as if those kids were your own . . . and make plenty of allowance for childish carelessness.

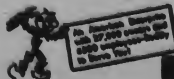

Youngsters have a responsibility, too . . . so parents and teachers can help by teaching simple safety rules, and reminding them to co-operate with their school's Safety Patrols!

Cooke School PTA Backs Plans for New High School

Twelve Committee Chairmen Named For Ensuing Year

W. T. Cooke Parent-Teacher Association, at its first meeting of the new school term on Monday, unanimously approved the proposed new high school for Virginia Beach. Members volunteered to call all eligible voters and urge them to come out to the polls Tuesday, September 19.

W. W. McClanahan, Jr., chairman of the town council's school committee, spoke on the advantages of a high school for the town and the potential cost to the community.

Mrs. Aubrey N. Holmes, president of the P. T. A., announced that membership will be stressed during the coming year. An award of $5 will be given each class having 100 per cent membership in the Parent-Teacher Association by November.

The following committee chairmen have been appointed for the coming year:

Mrs. R. Lynn Kennett, program; Mrs. James E. Fridley, health; Mrs. George Hartley, membership; Mrs. W. C. Everett, hospitality; Mrs. H. Warfield Leeks, lunch room; Mrs. S. C. Foote, Jr., publicity; Mrs. Landon Hilliard, Jr., music; Mrs. John A. Tucker, ways and means; Mrs. Pierre A. Cronenbergs, magazines; Mrs. Leo E. Biley, budget; Mrs. Delmas Foster, scrapbook; Mrs. James Bennett, parliamentarian.

MISS LOUISE BRYANT TO LEAVE SUNDAY FOR V. P. I.

Miss Louise Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bryant, of Chesapeake Beach, will leave Sunday for V. P. I. where she will be a sophomore. She is majoring in architecture. Miss Bryant is leaving early in order to assist in the orientation program for new students entering V. P. I.

Fair Chairman Thanks Public for Support of Event

Mrs. Mullen Says 1950 County Fair "Was Real Success"

Mrs. George Mullen, co-chairman with Carlton Etheridge of the 1950 Princess Anne County Fair, yesterday issued a statement on behalf of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County thanking the public for their wholehearted support of the fair.

"This year's fair was a real success," Mrs. Mullen said, "and the club wants to thank the public and the merchants, and above all the workers who gave so unstintingly of their time to help us make it so."

Mrs. Mullen added that she regrets reports of the appearance of gambling devices at the fair grounds, especially on Friday and Saturday nights. "I want to emphasize that the Woman's Club had absolutely no knowledge that those gambling games were on the fair grounds. If we had known we would not have tolerated them for one minute."

Mrs. Mullen said that several people had called the matter to her attention and that she wanted the public to know that it was without the knowledge of either the Ruritan Club or the Woman's Club that the games of chance were allowed to operate.

(One fair visitor, who asked that his name not be divulged, said that there were at least four dice games as well as a game of Kelly pool which were being played for quarters. Our informant declared that a twenty-five cent minimum game was "small change" gambling.)

Colonial Stores Opens New Super Market Here

Many New Features Included in Chain's Most Modern Store

The first day of the three-day formal opening of the new Colonial Stores Super Market on 17th Street and Arctic Avenue yesterday drew capacity crowds, with orchids for the ladies from the management, and kudos from the ladies to the Colonial Stores. The formal opening will continue today and tomorrow.

The new super market, which is under the management of W. T. Etheridge, groceries, J. M. Fippen, market, and G. H. Hayden, produce, has a total of 35 employees. It is one of the largest and most modern of the chain's 350 stores operated in Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama.

Special features of the new store, which has just been completed, include six check-out lanes to speed shopping, and a self-service meat market. Pre-packaging facilities are located in the store itself, which is 85 by 115 feet in size. More than 3,000 items of merchandise will be stocked.

Still other features at the Beach super market are a complete diabetic foods department and a Kosher foods department. A large parking lot adjoins the new building for the convenience of shoppers.

The super market replaces the 17th Street, between Atlantic and Pacific, store of the Colonial chain.

The super market is in the Colonial Stores' Eastern Division, operating under the divisional vice president, J. W. Woods, of Norfolk. It will be under the supervision of K. J. Brethauer, divisional manager, G. C. Hudgins, general superintendent, R. L. Belvin, grocery superintendent, and L. A. Rena, market superintendent.

MRS. ALBERT CROSBY TO BE GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING OF BIRD NECK GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Albert V. Crosby will be guest speaker at the initial fall meeting of the Bird Neck Garden Club on Tuesday, September 19. Mrs. Crosby has chosen as her topic "Judging Ethics" and has requested that each member bring an arrangement of fruit, flowers, or dried material to be judged.

Mrs. Ruth W. Lindsay will be hostess for the club meeting at her home at 10:30 a.m.

NEW SUPER MARKET—Colonial Stores' New Super Market, which opened yesterday on 17th Street at Arctic Avenue, is the latest thing in convenience for the housewife. The super store stocks more than 3,000 items and has many specialized departments. It is one of the largest in the Colonial Stores chain.

Oceana N.A.A.S. Host to Group Of Midshipmen

The Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Oceana, played host last week to 800 Midshipmen who were based at the Amphibious Base, Little Creek, in connection with Camid V operation. The Midshipmen spent the day at Oceana learning about the air arm of the Navy both by observation and by instructive talks.

Capt. J. F. Quiller, USN, Commanding Officer, welcomed the visitors aboard and gave them a short talk about the mission of the station. Then followed instructive talks on carrier aircraft by Comdr. H. S. Bottomley, Jr., USN, Commanding Officer of Carrier Air Group 6; the attack squadron by Comdr. A. M. Eralier, USN, VA-35; and the fighter squadron by Comdr. J. G. Smith, USN, VF-61.

The guests spent the rest of the day inspecting the training building, the hangars, and displays of aircraft and survival gear. The grand finale was an air show which included a simulated group attack by CVG-8, staged on NAAS, Oceana, followed by a parade over the field, carrier break up and landing on paddles.

At noon the Midshipmen were guests of the crew's general mess for a typical Navy meal. The Midshipmen seemed to have had a fine time and displayed great interest in the station and its mission, according to station personnel.

Little Theatre to Begin Drive for Season Members

Mrs. Trant Explains Membership Plan Which Starts Monday

A drive to renew last year's memberships in Virginia Beach's Little Theatre will begin Monday, September 16, according to an announcement by Mrs. R. F. Trant, Jr., membership chairman.

A letter will go out to all former season ticket holders, explaining the new membership plan, and offering them the privilege of renewing their same seats for the season. Those wishing to reserve the same seats may telephone Mrs. Trant at Virginia Beach 42-J-12.

Membership of the Little Theatre consists of the officers and directors and the season ticket members. There will be two meetings each year of the membership, a general meeting in the fall and the annual meeting in May, at which directors for the following term are elected. This means that the season ticket members may, if they wish, take an active part in the running of the Little Theatre, which is a community theatre, and welcomes all members of the community.

Mrs. Trant has also announced that an intensive drive for new members will be conducted during the first three weeks in October, up to and including October 23-24, the dates on which the Little Theatre's first production, "John Loves Mary," will be presented. Plans for this campaign are under way, and will be announced in detail.

VFW Auxiliary, Rotary Club Back Proposed School

Two more civic organizations have voted to back the proposed new high school for Virginia Beach—the Rotary Club and the VFW Auxiliary, Post 7166.

According to Harold Kellam, the Rotarians took their action at the regular meeting last Thursday. At that time the group voted to endorse the action of the town council in the proposed high school for Virginia Beach.

The VFW Auxiliary also acted favorably on the issue on Monday evening at their regular meeting at the Post Home on 13th Street.

This brings to a majority the civic organizations which have wholeheartedly endorsed the proposal. The Jaycees have promised to get out the vote for the referendum which will decide the issue on next Tuesday, September 19, as has the Parent-Teacher Association, which will also work to get out as large a number of voters as possible in order to give the town council the people's full approval of their efforts to bring a first-class high school to Virginia Beach. The president of the Junior Woman's Club has urged all eligible voters to support the high school.

The State Literary Fund has already granted $700,000 for construction purposes, and needs only the word to make the funds available for starting the project.

Town Makes Appeal to State for Funds to Combat Beach Erosion And to Repair Recent Damage

Junior Woman's Club To Meet Tuesday; FBI Agent Speaker

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County will hold its first meeting of the fall season Tuesday evening, September 19, at 8 o'clock in the new club room in the Community House.

Mrs. J. Peter Holland, III, chairman of legislation, department of education, announces that Norman H. McCabe, special agent in charge of the Norfolk office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has been invited to speak to the Juniors at this meeting. Mr. McCabe will be introduced by Reeves Johnson, chief of police of Virginia Beach.

Cavalier Garden Club Winner of Tri-Color Award At Fair

The Cavalier Garden Club was the winner of the first prize and the tri-color ribbon for Best Arrangement in the flower show at the fair last week.

Judges were Mrs. H. G. Glidewell, Mrs. W. C. Griffin and Mrs. E. D. DuVal. Ribbons were awarded as follows:

Teen-Age Club to Meet September 19

A meeting of the Teen-Age Club will be held at the Community House Tuesday, September 19, at 8 p.m., to elect officers for the coming year and to formulate plans.

A popular meeting place for the high school set, the Community House opened on Monday for its fall and winter season. Director William Fantone said that the young people show the same enthusiasm for their Community House, and this year plan a series of teen-age entertainments.

The Teen-Age Column will be resumed in the Virginia Beach News about the first of October.

Councilmen Simpson And McClanahan Get Audience with Battle

An appeal for State aid in repairing the seawall will be made today to Governor Battle by Town Councilmen Robert L. Simpson and W. W. McClanahan, Jr. The appointment was made with the State's chief executive after disastrous tides and winds pounded and tore at the boardwalk with such force Monday and Tuesday that sheet piling on the face of the wall was torn away for a distance of some three blocks and the sea washed under to erode dirt fill under and to the west of the walkway, leaving gaping holes.

The town authorities are frankly at a loss at this time as to what direction to turn for corrective measures, according to Town Engineer Carrol Bounds. Mr. Bounds said that the town was consulting with engineering authorities. Representatives of the Merritt-Chapman-Scott and of Myron A. Sturgeson both have been on the spot this week, he added, as well as representatives of the Army Engineers.

Army Engineers Plan

The Army Engineers have already submitted a plan which would require an expenditure in excess of one million dollars to carry out. The plan calls for the construction of a series of groins or jetties, and the artificial replenishment of sand beach between. The plan, if carried out, would require the approval of the United States Beach Erosion Board and action by Congress if Federal aid were granted.

The State aid being asked would cover expenditures for repairing heavy damage to the boardwalk caused in recent months.

Erosion Corporation

Meanwhile, C. T. Whitehead speaking for the Virginia Beach Erosion Corporation, said that plans will be carried out by that group, as approved in Monday's council meeting, to build an emergency break-water at right angles to the boardwalk by sinking either (1) steel life rafts, or (2) steel landing barges filled with concrete off 9th Street. Cost of the project would be some $3,000, to be borne by the residents in the vicinity. The group asked to be relieved of a $1,500 obligation, promised to help defray the cost of dumping rip-rap stone on the beach at the point of most serious stress. The later project was completed some weeks ago, with the town bearing up to $6,000 of the cost and the Erosion Corporation to put in $1,500.

Council approved the breakwater plan of the Erosion Corporation, and promised to relieve them of the $1,500 obligation if their proposed breakwater proved successful.

Meanwhile, yet another proposal of the Erosion Corporation was the subject of a public notice by the Army Engineers. The group asked for a permit to place and sink two hulls in the ocean offshore the end of the jetty just completed at 9th Street. The stated purpose of the installation is to "increase the length and effectiveness of the existing jetty in building up the beach."

Protests, if there are objections to the work, may be received in the office of the Corps of Engineers until September 21, according to the notice.

POLICE TEN TO DEATH, BOYS!

We were interested to note in the Saturday and Monday editions of the Norfolk papers a listing of persons in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County who had paid $100 Federal taxes for slot machines.

We were particularly interested to note that it was once again the "little guy," the more or less innocent by-stander, who took the rap for the existence of these gaming devices, not the persons who own and make them available to these same little guys or the persons who make it possible for them to operate the illegal machines.

We were more than interested in the comments made by the various heads of the policing forces of the county and town.

"Pinball machines," said Sheriff Malbon. "Don't pay off; haven't found any," said County Chief Ivan Mapp. "Many were indicted in July; most don't pay off," said Virginia Beach Chief Reeves E. Johnson. No comment was printed anywhere that we have been able to discover from Judge Floyd E. Kellan, who, in a ringing address to the grand jury, called upon the police of the county to do away with these "one-arm bandits" and to "police to death" the law breakers. The Commonwealth's Attorney is on vacation at this time.

According to what one would imagine to be efficient police tactics and the tactics that would be followed by interested county and town officials, when evidence of this nature appears, a thorough examination would be made at once. Going going the rounds on 17th Street would indicate, however, the thorough examination was made only AFTER a member of the small-time underworld that dominates had called those who were apt to be found in possession of one of these so-called bandits. The same source said that the machines were moved out that morning and replaced that night.

Not even this perfunctory gesture was made this summer at the time of the grand jury which was investigating reports of gaming. It was then, you will recall, that the Federal Government made public a list of persons having direct "sports" wires, and showed that five of the State's eight wires were in Princess Anne County. While Police Chief Johnson was undoubtedly correct when he said that possession of such a wire is not illegal, it also might lead an open-minded police department to SUSPECT that the wire was being used for illegal purposes and an investigation would be in order. (Incidentally, with a $1,000 town license tax on a "sports" wire, and probably State and Federal taxes, it takes a wild stretch of the imagination to think that there are enough avid sportsmen who must get their news of sporting events hot off the wires rather than via radio or television.)

This all brings us back to the original premise of the News. We do not pass on the morality or the immorality of gambling; we do not care whether or not a hotel has a slot machine or two slot machines for their guests. (Two or three hundred dollars a week extra ain't hay, you know.) If a man wants to bet on the horses, that is O. K. with us. It is a lousy way to make a living, but if you can afford to back the odds, that is your business, not ours.

What we do object to, and we shall continue to object to, is the system that permits these things to exist and that forces, either through fear or greed, the duly authorized officials who are being paid to enforce our laws to turn their backs to evidence before them that is so obvious it fairly shouts. We object to the effrontery, the insult to the intelligence of the citizens, when our officials condone this minor league gangsterism by publicly ignoring its existence or protesting their ignorance of it.

Up until the recent county fair, when from five to six dice or other games paying off in money were running full tilt simultaneously, we thought maybe some of the head men were ignorant of the wide-open gaming. However, there are enough witnesses who can place some of our highest officialdom close enough to these tables and the clank of coins and craps, that it would have been impossible for them to remain unaware of what was going on granted they were in full possession of sight and hearing.

Maybe we ought to explain to these same officials that those little white cubes with black dots on them are "dice."

'Obey Your Safety Patrol' Urges AAA Following School Opening

School Safety Patrol members, with their newly-scrubbed white jeans, brown belts and gleaming badges, again will be a familiar sight to parents and motorists at hazardous school corners with the re-opening of school, John B. Dey, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, said today.

With patrol members going back to the job of protecting their schoolmates from traffic hazards in Virginia, Mr. Dey urged parents to instruct their children to obey Safety Patrol members on duty at places where the children will cross, and also urged motorists to be especially careful in school zones to heed the presence of a Patrol member.

"The School Safety Patrol has been one of the principal means of helping school-age children to reduce greatly their traffic death rate during the past 20 years while the rate of all other groups has gone way up," Mr. Dey said. "To aid teachers in this area in maintaining that splendid record the club will provide 300 colorful 'Obey Your Safety Patrol' posters and teacher lesson guides for use in their classroom safety education programs. These materials are the first of the 1966-67 series to be provided to teachers starting this month and running throughout the entire school year. Some 4000 teachers will receive the safety aids.

"These materials are produced by the American Automobile Association with which the Tidewater Automobile Association is affiliated. The lesson guides are the work of experienced teachers and the posters are the first-prize winners in the 6th National Safety Poster Contest. The poster being distributed this month, 'Obey Your Safety Patrol,' was drawn by William Howard George, Boys' Technical High School, Milwaukee,

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckham and three daughters, Nancy, Bernice and Margaret, of Tarrytown, N. Y., are spending a month at their cottage on Lakeside Drive.

Patricia Bryant, who has been spending the summer with her grandparents, Mrs. J. D. Bryant, at her home on 36th Street, will leave Monday to enter V. P. I. as a student.

Miss Sylvia Carpenter is spending a few days in New York City.

Elizabeth Conklin Becomes Bride of Louis Edmonds Guy

Christ Episcopal Church, Winchester, was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday evening at eight o'clock when Miss Elizabeth Anne Conklin, daughter of Mrs. Nash Conklin, of Winchester, and Willard Huntington Conklin, of Denver, Colorado, became the bride of Louis Edmonds Guy, of Virginia Beach, son of Mrs. Louis Edmonds Guy, Sr., of Virginia Beach, and the late Dr. Guy. The Rev. William Henry Hancel performed the ceremony. The church was decorated with palms, candles, white gladioli, chrysanthemums and asters. Mrs. Gilbert Titcomb, of Winchester, played the wedding music and Miss Katherine Louise Arnold, of Winchester, sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Colonial period bridal gown of candlelight satin fashioned with tiny collar, self covered buttons down the front of the bodice and a bouffant skirt ending in a train. Her finger tip veil of French illusion fell from a small satin bonnet. Her only ornament was an heirloom brooch belonging to her great-great aunt. She carried a Colonial nosegay of white mixed flowers.

Miss Ann Elizabeth Robinson, of Winchester, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. John Spedding Lailey, of Baltimore, and Mrs. George Ringold Guy, of Virginia Beach and Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They all wore Colonial dresses of hunter green tissue faille styled with bouffant skirts and off-the-shoulder necklines. The small bonnet type hats were of the same material as the dresses. They carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums and asters.

George Ringold Guy, of Virginia Beach and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was the best man. The groomsmen were Charles Lawrence, of Norfolk, Robert Smith, of Norfolk, W. Va.; A. Rhon Lane, of Richmond, and C. Edgar Koonce, of Virginia Beach and Winchester.

The bride's mother wore a gown of blue de rose lace and chiffon with matching hat of net and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray gown and an silk corsage dress with matching hat and a white orchid corsage.

Multi-Million Dollar Expansion And Improvement Program Gets Underway At N. A. A. S. Oceana

Aircraft Operations Suspended During Construction Period

LA. John Hickey, (CMC), USN, public works officer at Oceana Naval Auxiliary Air Station, announced today that work on an extension construction program has started at NAAS Oceana. The project provides for resurfacing and improving runways with a view towards making Oceana the major Naval jet operating facility in the East.

An idea of the magnitude of the work may be gained by considering that the paving would be the equivalent of nearly 33 miles of highway, LA. Hickey said.

Captain J. F. Quilter, USN, Commanding Officer of the Air Station, stated that construction work will be so extensive that aircraft operations will be suspended while the two contractors, T. E. Ritter Corp., of Norfolk, and Howe Contracting Company, Inc., of Augusta, Ga., are engaged in work at the station.

Although all runway work will be done by commercial contractors, it is expected that civilian personnel will continue to be employed in present numbers since normal station upkeep, maintenance, and improvements will continue.

Annual State Farm Acreage Survey Now Underway

A farm crop acreage survey will be conducted in Virginia during the last of September, according to H. W. Olin, Princess Anne farm agent. This survey will be made by placing a card in the mail boxes of about one farm out of every 15 in each county. Each farmer is requested to answer the questions and return the card to his rural carrier promptly.

The present world situation has created a desire by farmers and agricultural workers for a better knowledge of the agricultural situation, Mr. Olin said.

"Increased interest has been shown by farm people in the last few months in the amount of acreage planted to different crops in 1950. This survey is designed to show acreage harvested this year and also the number of acres planted to fall crops by counties and for the state. The results of this survey will be made available through the daily and weekly newspapers and the radio as soon as possible. A copy is also mailed to each farmer, who reports. The success of the survey depends upon the accuracy and promptness with which the farmers answer the questions and return their cards," he said.

Mr. Olin also said that he hoped that each farmer who receives one of these cards, will take a few minutes to fill it out and return it to his rural mail carrier. The survey is being conducted by the Department of Agriculture with the cooperation of the Post Office Department.

Ames and Webb Bid Low on Paving Job

Low bid in the amount of $23,635 was received Tuesday by the State Highway Department from the firm of Ames and Webb, Inc., for the work of applying heavy bituminous surface to that portion of Routes 13-7 and 163 in Princess Anne and Norfolk counties.

County Schools Show Enrollment Increase for Term

Kempville, Bayside Schools Show Largest Increase in County

Princess Anne County showed an over-all increase in school enrollment this year in the white schools of 365 pupils, with most of the advance centered in the Kempville and Bayside schools, where an increase of 350 was registered. Negro school enrollment was up 30 from last school year.

Total enrollment of white pupils was 4,070 for the school term just beginning over 3,675 last September. By schools, the corresponding figures are:

W. T. Cooke School, 575 this year, 544 last year; Bayside, 625 this year, 566 last year; Princess Anne Court House School, where the only drop in enrollment occurred, 186 this year, 190 last year; Creeds High School, 125 this year, 126 last year; Creeds Elementary School, 250 this year, 240 last year; Oceana High School, 428 this year, 405 last year; Oceana Elementary School, 625 this year, 618 last year; Kempville High School, 510 this year, 495 last year; Kempville Elementary School, 790 this year, 844 last year.

Negro enrollment, which was not broken down by schools, totaled 1930 for the present school term, and 1800 last September.

Figures were released by Frank W. Cox, superintendent of schools for the county.

Dinner Meeting Held By Business and Professional Women

The September meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princess Anne County was held at Marilyn's Inn. Mrs. Rosalie Mergler, president, presided. Immediately following the dinner the club was entertained by Ann Pennington, Sam Fouts and Chick Jordan of the Little Theatre group, who presented four skits, the last being their version of "What goes on at a Woman's Club Meeting."

The following new members were introduced: Mrs. Clyde Gayle, Mrs. E. K. Millholland, Mrs. J. C. Bradburn, Mrs. Paul Mauch, Mrs. Ed Deering, Miss Ruth Newell, Mrs. Louise Pridden, Mrs. Ruby Braunbeck, and Mrs. Helen Strunick. Mrs. Nancy Strickler was welcomed as a transfer from the Narrows, Va., club. She is state chairman of International Relations.

Mrs. Clyde Gayle was appointed corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mark White was appointed district chairman of the State News Service Committee.

Reservations were made by ten members to attend the fall board meeting at Lynchburg September 23-24. The October meeting will be held the second Monday in October at the Red Cross room in the Community House at 7:45 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

Jean Baldwin Is New Girl Scout Area Director

Miss Nee Resigns; Girl Scouting Grew Under Her Direction

Miss Eva Mae Nee, director of Princess Anne District of the Virginia Tidewater Area Council of Girl Scouts, has resigned her post as of September 15 to take a position with the Virginia Beach Sun.

She will be replaced as district director of Princess Anne by Miss Jean Baldwin, of Columbia, S. C. Miss Baldwin will begin her work the latter part of September. A graduate of the University of South Carolina with an A.B. degree in sociology, she has just completed her Girl Scout Professional Orientation Course at Camp Edith Macy. Miss Baldwin was assistant director at Camp Matoaka during the current camping season.

Miss Baldwin has taught physical education in Columbia, S. C., been assistant recreational director of Columbia Children's Clinic, leader of Girl Scout troops in Columbia, and acting field director of Girl Scouts in Columbia. She has done camp counselor work at Camp Rawls, Camp Forest Acres, in Fryeburg, Maine, and at the YWCA Day Camp in Columbia.

Miss Nee began her work with the Girl Scouts shortly after the organization of the Princess Anne District of Girl Scouts in 1947. Girl Scouting has grown under her direction and troops have been formed in many neighborhoods.

In 1947 Virginia Beach and Oceana had the only troops in Princess Anne. Today there are troops at Chesapeake Beach, Lynnhaven, Bayside, Stumpy Lake, Kempville and Ocean Park. There is a total of 18 troops serving the girls of Princess Anne from 7 to 16 years of age in the Girl Scout program. Under Miss Nee's leadership, Princess Anne had its first day camp last summer at Virginia Beach.

Serving actively on the Princess Anne District Committee are Mrs. George Boush, chairman, Mrs. Frank E. Cox, secretary, Mrs. Emmet Kyle, Mrs. Frank E. Burleson, Mrs. Hugh Jones, Mrs. H. W. Newcome, Mrs. Henry Hedley, Mrs. Robert G. Hofheimer, Mrs. David Pender, Jr., Mrs. H. W. Chaffee, Mrs. H. M. Mason, Mrs. Edwin Cake, and Mrs. Bagley M. Walker.

Clark Mechanics Win Awards

L. L. Clark of Clark Chevrolet Corporation announces that the following members of his firm have been awarded the Chevrolet Approved Mechanics Diploma in the mechanics field: J. H. Humphries, Roscoe N. Lane, and Kelly White, Jr.

The awards were made by B. C. Carter, Richmond branch manager for Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corporation at a banquet held at Virginia Beach last Friday.

Voters Overwhelmingly Approve Literary Fund Loan for High School

Gilmerton Bridge, Norfolk By-Pass, To Close for Day

The Gilmerton Bridge across the Elizabeth River on heavily-traveled Route 13, the Norfolk by-pass, will be closed for at least 24 hours beginning at midnight, September 25, the State Highway Department announces.

J. M. Hagan, the road agency's district engineer at Suffolk, said it will be necessary to keep the draw span open while Army engineers dredge the channel to a 35-foot depth.

Engineers are hopeful that the dredging operation will be completed by midnight, Tuesday. They said, however, that if the dredging equipment encounters any unexpected difficulty, it may be necessary to keep the bridge closed through midnight on Wednesday, September 27.

The highway department is completing plans to detour the 15,000-odd vehicles which daily use the important artery. Flaggermen will be on duty during the entire period and two detours will be established:

(1) Via U. S. 58 from Bowers Hill through Portsmouth and across the Elizabeth River ferries into Norfolk.

(2) Via Routes 17 and 337 across the Jordan Bridge into Norfolk.

Flaggermen and barricades will be placed at the following points: Intersection of Routes 13 and 58 at Bowers Hill; intersection of Routes 13 and 17; intersection of Routes 13, 400 and 166-Y at the triple-decker; intersection of Routes 13 and 170.

Lt. Ball Graduates From Communications School in Illinois

First Lieut. Robert O. Ball, Jr., graduated this week from the Air Force Communications School at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois. It was announced by the base commander, Brig. Gen. John F. McBlain.

Graduated from the Officer Communications School, Lt. Ball will assume command of a communications squadron or group engaged in the operation and maintenance of the world wide network of radio and fixed wire facilities so vital in the completion of the Air Force mission.

Lt. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Ball, is a resident of 3504 Atlantic Ave. During World War II he was a member of the 6th Air Force in England. From March to October 1949, he flew 128 missions as an "airlift" pilot with headquarters at Rhein Main Air Force Base, Germany.

Lt. Ball graduated from Oceana High School and attended Virginia Military Institute for one year.

Virginia Forest Service Purchasing Loblolly Pine Cones

Loblolly pine cones are to be purchased again this year by the Virginia Forest Service.

The state forester has authorized payment of $3.00 per bushel for all mature, green loblolly pine cones. These cones, in order to be accepted must be green cones which have matured this year and which have not opened and lost their seed. Chief forest wardens of each county are this week contacting all schools and other persons interested in cone collections.

Any person interested in collecting pine cones and who wants further information should contact the chief forest warden of his county or other personnel of the Virginia Forest Service who will be able to supply definite instructions.

Pine cones are collected each year to secure seed for planting in two state forest tree nurseries. Upon receipt of the cones at the nursery, they are dried on racks and the seed are extracted to be planted to supply pine seedlings for next year's forest tree planting.

The seed in these cones become mature late in September and care should be used to avoid picking cones from trees out prior to this time.

Persons in Norfolk, Princess Anne, Nansemond and Isle of Wight can contact the Portsmouth office of the Forest Service at Box 3007, Portsmouth, or Phone 75931.

Miss Ailstock Attends Hospital Convention in Atlantic City

Miss Harriet V. Ailstock, superintendent of the Virginia Beach Hospital, attended the 52nd annual convention of the American Hospital Association in Atlantic City, N. J., this week.

How hospitals can give the best care to their patients and to patients over the country was the theme of the convention, under the title "Organizing the Hospital to Meet the Changing Scene."

Interpreting national trends and the state of the nation were hospital and health leaders, experts from university faculties, and high government officials.

"Hospital Responsibility in Planning for National Security" was discussed by Norvin C. Klefer, M.D., director, Health Resources, National Security Resources Board in Washington.

Admiral William H. P. Blandy, USN (ret.), former commander of the Atlantic Fleet and now president of the Health Information Foundation, New York, spoke on "Our Job as Freedom's Leader" at the annual banquet on Thursday evening.

Plans, Specifications Will Be Prepared As Soon As Possible

A vote of 476 to 81 on Tuesday assured Virginia Beach of a new high school, long felt to be a paramount need.

The referendum, which was called so that the people could decide whether or not to take advantage of the $700,000 Literary Fund loan already approved for the construction and equipment of the proposed 16-classroom high school.

The special election was called by the Town Council which had declared that the electorate itself should decide an issue involving such a heavy expenditure.

Town Clerk R. A. Jones said the next step is up to the School Board which, he added, is now privileged to make application for execution of the loan, which was pledged by the Literary Fund in May. Execution of the loan follows approval by the State of the plans and specifications for the new school.

Tentative plans for the new school have been prepared by Louis A. Oliver, Norfolk architect, and his associate, Herbert L. Smith, of Virginia Beach, who are planning to visit a number of plants completed since the war, to study the modern trend in construction and facilities.

Ready for 1953 Terms

The new school, which is not expected to be completed until the late summer of 1953, will be located on property previously acquired by the town on Cypress Avenue, between 34th and 38th streets.

It will contain at least 16 standard class rooms and auxiliary spaces, such as cafeteria, gymnasium, laboratory, offices, etc.

The annual operating budget for the new school, based on an enrollment of 300, is estimated at $75,000. Councilmen have estimated that taxes for school purposes will have to be raised by 75 cents per hundred dollars assessed valuation in order to cover operating expenses along with amortization and interest of 3 per cent on the $700,000 loan.

Although there are only about 300 high school students residing at the beach at this time, it is anticipated the total will reach close to 300 before the school is ready for occupancy.

The new project comes at a time that Princess Anne County is preparing to build a new Negro high school and a consolidated school for members of the same race out of funds made available by the State and through a $950,000 bond issue approved by the voters some months ago.

A section of the new high school may be utilized by sixth and seventh grade classes now being carried at the Wilmoughby T. Cooke School, according to councilmen, in order the relieve the crowded conditions at that school.

Fort Story Selling Scrap Lumber at Post Lumber Yard

Scrap lumber in excess of requirements at Fort Story is being offered for sale to the general public, according to an announcement by Brigadier General Walter J. Muller, commanding.

This sale will be conducted at the post lumber yard, 37th Street and Atlantic Avenue, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday of each week until further notice.

Purchase price of this lumber will be fifty (50) cents per ton load, and terms will be "cash and carry." Buyers will be required to furnish their own trucks and to their own unloading.

President Suggests Civil Defense Program for States and Local Communities

A national civil defense program, called "a set of suggested guide posts for states and local communities," has been sent to Congress for study this week by the President. In his transmittal, the President said he hoped that Congress "would consider it carefully over the next few weeks as a basis for the enactment of legislation in the near future."

In the meantime, members of the Nation's 150 largest cities will consider the report, prepared by the National Security Resources Board, at a special meeting in Washington early in October. Mr. Truman also asserted that he intends to set up a temporary Civil Defense Administration pending congressional action.

A Washington Post article, written by Chalmers Roberts, which described the plan, says that the report declares that the state there can be no absolute military defense, civil defense might make the difference to the United States between "defeat by a massive initial enemy attack and the ability to get up off the floor to fight back, and that up until now civil defense has been a missing element in our system of national security."

One hundred and forty critical target areas in the nation are listed in the report. Governors are being sent lists of these areas in their state and may make them public as they see fit.

The plan suggests, as a "rough rule of thumb," that cities and towns within a 30-mile radius of a target city be asked to agree to commit up to one-third of their resources as initial reinforcements by rearranged plan in the event of attack.

Here are excerpts from key sections of the plan, according to the report:

Shelters—It is impossible to provide shelters for all the population everywhere. Hence they should be provided in critical target areas, using existing building basements, subways, bank vaults and so on. Detailed plans on how to build your own home shelter as well as community types will be issued later.

Wardens—A warden system, employing many women, should be set up to train the public for self-protection. They should pass on to the FBI "without any screening, appraising or filtering" any reports on espionage, sabotage or subversion.

Fire Service—Because an A-bomb can create a "fire storm" of vast proportions, plans must be ready to draw water from rivers, canals and lakes. Auxiliary fire guards must be trained to handle fires outside the main area where regulars will be busy.

Auxiliary Police—Volunteers "should not be hastily organized, clothed with police authority and armed with police weapons." They should be drawn in large part from men over draft age and from women. Command and functions should not be assigned auxiliaries.

Health, Medical Services—A complete system of first aid systems should be set up; emergency equipment should be stored at fringe area hospitals; trucks, station wagons and buses should be fitted to handle litter cases.

A system of emergency hospitals in school buildings should be arranged. Medical stores should be kept by the Federal Government in dispersed stockpiles, available for use in any of nearby stricken cities.

Special equipment will be needed against possible bacteriological and gas attacks as well as because of radiation in an atomic attack.

Welfare—Plans for mass feeding and housing must be prepared and supplies of clothing inventoried.

Rescue—A specially trained rescue service should be established in each community. Federal rescue schools will train the teachers for local schools. "The morale of the population will be directly affected by the adequacy of the rescue service."

Communications—This is the "nerve system" of civil defense. Inspection of material by pre-Secondary systems must be rechecked by police, fire, air raid, rescue will be permitted. Further instructions are to be essential-ly communications centers.

NEEDED DIVORCE

Thinking people in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will find food for thought in a speech made before the American Bar Association which is meeting in Washington this week. In an address before that body, Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois said that gambling and other organized crime "cannot be broken until police forces are divorced from partisan political control."

Gov. Stevenson, in his speech which was prepared for the Bar Association's section on criminal law, said:

"The law (as it affects gambling and organized crime) cannot be broken without the connivance of elected officials, and open and long continued violation inevitably means there is corruption—a payoff in some form or other."

He suggested that the bar association use "the weapon of disbarment" to discipline attorneys who violate their trust in law enforcement positions, and added:

"Organized crime cannot thrive without the active support of many more elements."

"The respectable business man who falls for the myth that a wide open town is good for business is just as effective an accomplice of the criminal as is the politician who seeks to win friends by influencing people."

"The solid citizen who thinks that illegal slot machines are just fine for his country club but bad for the corner saloon does not realize what difficulties he is making for the persons he has elected to enforce the laws."

While Governor Stevenson has probably never heard of Princess Anne County and only of Virginia Beach as a vacation spot, he might just as well have been addressing a group of our own citizens about conditions at home.

We believe that our law enforcement is definitely under the rule of the political machine that rules the county—in point of fact, appointments to the county police force are made by Judge Floyd E. Kellam, nominal head of the county's political machine. Moreover, the position of Commonwealth's Attorney is also a political job, elective, it is true, but who is elected in the county who is not a member of the same political machine, so strong is its power through well placed appointments and careful disposal of favors?

Such a state of affairs in other places has resulted in the inevitable climax: The political machine uses favoritism and the old system of "you pat my back and I'll pat yours" to keep and maintain its power. The police and the other law enforcement officers, which includes the office of the prosecuting attorney, follow the "party line" laid down by the bosses, and continue the policy of favoritism. Result: breakdown of the law and disrespect for law enforcement; corruption and connivance.

WHY WE FIGHT

(Editor's Note: The following statement was written by Ambassador Warren R. Austin, United States Representative in the United Nations. Although written to the United Nations Forces in Korea, the message explains a great deal and is of vital importance to us all.)

To the United Nations Forces in Korea:

You and I have a great deal in common. Although our duties and responsibilities are somewhat different, we are partners in the first international "police action" in history. We are working together to suppress the lawbreakers who have attacked the whole United Nations effort to build a peaceful and a better world. What we do at Lake Success and what you do in Korea affects the future of people everywhere.

Our object together is to halt aggression. The world failed to do that when Hitler and Mussolini and the Japanese were rising to power nearly 20 years ago. Aggression in Ethiopia, Manchuria and Austria went unchallenged. Today the story is different. The United Nations has successfully challenged aggression in a number of instances.

About three years ago war broke out in Greece. It turned out that the Communists were behind it—not just Greek Communists, but Communists from countries north of Greece. The United Nations sent military observers to that northern border and through their eyes the whole world saw that in reality it was Communist aggression from the outside that menaced Greece—and the rest of the world, too. In that instance, Greek soldiers, aided by the United States and British equipment, stood off and defeated the Communists for themselves and for the rest of us.

Then the Communists centered their attack on Berlin. The Soviet Union tried to squeeze the rest of the world out of that city. Illegal force was defeated once more—by a dramatic United States-British-French airlift, by German citizens willing to endure difficult privations, by United Nations peace negotiations.

Korea was next, and the worst of all. What is happening in Korea is part of the Communist effort to dominate the world. Your victory in Korea will be the most crushing set-back the Communists have ever received. Your victory will demonstrate that the free peoples of the world are determined that aggression will not be permitted to succeed—even when it is attempted in a place so remote from our homes as Korea. Fifty-three nations are united in recognizing that a battle for freedom and for world law and order is now being fought. We know that aggression must be stopped before it gets a head start if we and the peoples of other countries are to remain free.

CONGRATULATIONS

The News wants to take this opportunity of congratulating WTAR Radio Corporation on the dedication of its new million dollar radio and television center in Norfolk.

WTAR and WTAR-TV have during their existence furnished this area the tops in programs of entertainment and education. The personnel of both stations have been always cooperative in the N-th degree with the people of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne, and have given of their time and efforts to promote civic and cultural endeavors of our county and town.

We want to share some of Norfolk's pride in the fine building that will house this group who have been such good friends through the years.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

New York—Little published during the past year, coin-in-the-slot merchandising is quietly flexing its muscles for an all-out onslaught on new markets. While vending machines have been catching coins now for some 30 years, they've only recently begun to come into their own. Sales through the machines are now hovering around the billion-dollar-a-year mark, about two billion under the industry's saturation point. In the future, according to a current analysis of the industry's prospects, these mechanical merchandisers loom as "an important adjunct to, if not a competitor of, the regular retail establishment." They've already been introduced in the department store field (Filene's of Boston has been using them to sell over-the-counter goods, like stockings, gloves, etc.). Tomorrow will find them invading other markets. Two new machines in the works: (1) a milk vending, for apartment house installation; (2) a sandwich dispenser, for strategic eat-and-run locations.

GIFT BOOM—That's what's taking place in the knit-knack and bric-a-brac business these days. Gift shop sales, say merchants, are up approximately 20% from 1949 levels. One reason: the war in Korea, which is said to be stepping up marriages and, consequently, gift sales. Prices as well as sales are rising, however, particularly in metalware, and the prospects are that 1950 Christmas present price tags will top last year's by a five to 10 per cent margin.

LIQUEUR OUTLOOK—Though the outbreak of the Korean war sent far too many Americans into frantic scare-buying, there's been no indication of general consumer hoarding of distilled spirits. Trade sources are buying more heavily, but in many cases their inventories have been far too low for normal business needs, according to an executive of Schenley Distillers, Inc. Whether the distilling industry has enough aged and aging whiskey to supply all customers during a continuing period of national emergency depends, he said, on whether present output of foreign spirits can continue without interruption for any reason, including lack of supplies and services. A shutdown due to lack of grain is especially unlikely. U. S. grain harvests have been so bountiful that they have created disposal and storage problems even after all national and international requirements have been fulfilled. Moreover, distillers use only about one-half of one per cent of U. S. grain. They could, however, be seriously affected by shortages of bottles, closures, cartons, corks, bxcars, trucks, fuel and manpower.

NEW HOUSES FOR OLD?—Homeowners who aren't planning to buy now but still can't resist long looks at the sparkling model homes on display during National Home Week can easily reconsider their present dwellings—whether they're five or forty years old—to provide comforts and conveniences matching those of new ones. What's more, the investment will pay big dividends in enhanced property value. In a study made with real estate dealers and home equipment suppliers it was found that a $4,000 renovating job on a typical six-room frame house, selling for about $13,500, would give the owner the equivalent of a new home for which he'd have to pay some $20,000. The face-lifting would include a new kitchen and bath, a roof and paint job, a new automatically controlled heating plant, aluminum screens, storm windows and new fixtures.

More comfort (with less fuel) can be realized with a new electric clock thermostat. Recently introduced by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, this new T-8 chronotherm actually prevents overheating by turning off the burner before too much heat is delivered. It also turns it on before too much heat is lost. By automatically turning the heat down at bed-time and up again in the morning it gives you another dividend too: an extra hour of sleep.

SETS OF BUSINESS—Stepped-up demand for silk proves the worm is turning. Imports this year may be twice 1949's peak, with most of the supply going into women's dresses. Coming next spring—men's silk suits. Labor pools are drying up as the Korean crisis drains more and more manpower from the nation's factories. Most in demand: engineers, draftsmen, machinists, welders, tool and die makers, electronics and aircraft specialists. Furniture makers are looking forward to a record year in 1950. One leading firm's present order backlog is double what it was three months ago, with no appreciable slackening in the offing.

SETS OFF TO THE LEATHERNECKS

Hats off to the Leathernecks—They've done it again!

Their strenuous preparations Have not been in vain.

They stormed ashore at daybreak, And crushed the savage foe—

Kept the light of freedom burning All thru that land of woe.

Oh, say can't you see

In the dawn's early light,

How they turned to tide of battle With their never failing might.

Hats off to the Leathernecks—The bulwark of our land!

For our honored flag of freedom They have made a gallant stand.

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO—SEPTEMBER 20, 1929

"Summer Season at Beach Resort Wanes at First Sign of Autumn" says a headline in the September 20, 1929, Virginia Beach News. "The summer season for the beaches and resorts is virtually ended with the chill of autumn making its first appearance the first of this week." The preceding week-end had brought an influx of visitors within driving distance, however, and the article continued that golf had hit a new high in popularity.

The enrollment of the Oceana School showed a total of 480, of which 170 were enrolled in the high school department and 310 in the grades. Teachers were: F. W. Cox, principal; B. G. Porter, assistant and commercial department; Mary Moore, mathematics; Ethel Crabtree, English; Virginia Saunders, history and French; Elizabeth Porter, Latin and librarian; William Kagin, science and athletics; S. E. Sellinger, agriculture. Grades: Ruth Gornio, Essie Hicks, Lillian Kellam, Robertine Price, Pauline Smith, Mabel Graham, Elizabeth Nimmo, Juanita Peterson and Elizabeth Brinkley.

The old Lynch cottage property, fronting 195 feet on the Ocean Front at 29th Street, was purchased by the Breakers Hotel Corporation for a reported purchase price of $19,000. Another $35,000 was scheduled for new additions. The Lynch cottage was managed by Mrs. Virginia Lynch.

Beach policemen were given a $10 per month raise by the Town Council as recommended by the Fire and Police Committee, composed of V. B. Hodges, R. H. Land, and W. P. Lipscombe.

Personals included from Kempville: The Woman's Auxiliary and Guild met at the Rectory Wednesday afternoon with good attendance. One new member was enrolled, Mrs. Leon Basnight.

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Herrick and family motored to Elizabeth City, Sunday.

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Kempville was held in the high school auditorium Monday, with G. B. Bryant presiding. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. R. C. Oliver, there was a general business session.

From Lynnhaven: Mrs. A. J. Ackles, of Virginia Beach, was visiting Mrs. Ida Whitehurst.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church held a lawn party at the home of Mrs. H. W. Olin.

From Virginia Beach: Mr. and Mrs. James M. Jordan, Jr., and family were to move the following day to their new home on 27th Street.

Bishop Beverly D. Tucker and his daughter, Miss Lila Tucker, were spending some time at Hot Springs, Va.

Marriage of Sara Morgan to Carroll Bounds in Norfolk

The marriage of Miss Sara Lillian Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Morgan, of Tampa, Fla., and Atlanta, Ga., to Carroll Jordan Bounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll C. Bounds, of Norfolk, took place Friday night at 8 o'clock in St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Norfolk, with the Rev. Beverly Tucker White, rector of the church, officiating. The altar was arranged with white asters, chrysanthemums, ferns and lighted candles. Mrs. Bernhard H. Wolter, church organist, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white satin and lace, the lace bodice, with small satin collar, buttoned down the back, and long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The satin skirt was made with a lace peplum train.

Her full length veil of illusion fell from an arrangement of lace and seed pearls, and she carried a prayerbook topped with orchids. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Herbert M. Glenn, of Tampa, Fla., was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a gown of coral rose lace and illusion over taffeta, made with bodice peplum. She carried an arm bouquet of blue asters with a bandeau of the same flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carlene Nickel, of Avondale Estates, Atlanta, cousin of the bride; Miss Jean Stoutenburg, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. Howard Kelly, of Virginia Beach; and Mrs. William P. Sellers, III, of Norfolk, sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses of powder blue lace and chiffon over taffeta, made with lace bodice and the chiffon skirts with lace peplums. They carried arm bouquets of rose asters and the same flowers in their hair.

Little Miss Linda Glenn, of Tampa, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Master William Sellers, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

J. Wells Martin, of Pittsburgh, was best man. Groomsmen were Dr. Lewis N. Waters, of Norton; Dr. William P. Sellers, III, and Wadsworth Bugz.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of beige lace and chiffon with scatter design of rhinestones, half hat of turquoise maline and an orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of turquoise crepe with beaded V-neckline, matching hat of maline, and a corsage of yellow hybrid orchids.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Woman's Club, and later Mr. and Mrs. Bounds left on a wedding trip to New Orleans. Upon their return, they will reside at Virginia Beach.

The bride wore for traveling a navy wool suit, with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Margaret Grimes Sets October 7 As Wedding Date

Mrs. Albert Laurence Grimes has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Margaret Leard, to Mr. George Elliott Powell, Jr., on Saturday evening, the seventh of October, at eight o'clock in the evening at the Galilee Episcopal Church and to the reception immediately following the ceremony at the Trafton-Chalfonte Hotel.

Miss Grimes will have as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Ellis Ralph Taylor, of Birmingham, Ala., and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. Joseph Whitelaw Cotton, Mrs. George Bernard Smith, of Lexington, Va., Miss Jane Walker Robinson and Miss Vivian Lyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Kent Hinant have closed their summer home on 26th Street and returned with their daughter, Ellis, and young son, Kent, to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they plan to open their new ocean-front apartment hotel, the Villa Verano, for the winter season.

Mrs. Virginia Graw left yesterday to spend a week in New York City.

Mrs. A. L. Grimes, Miss Peggy Grimes and Sonny Grimes have returned to their home on 54th Street after spending the summer on 19th Street and the Ocean Front.

Thomas Shoemaker has returned to his home on Raleigh Drive after spending the summer at Yellowstone Park.

John Garland, Hugh P. Thompson, Jr., and James Shoemaker have left for Charlottesville, Va., where they will enter the University of Virginia.

MRS. BOOKER ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON, SHOWS IN HONOR OF MISS GRIMES

Mrs. Frank Courtney Booker, Jr., entertained Wednesday at a luncheon and miscellaneous shower at Courtney Terrace in honor of Miss Margaret Leard Grimes, whose marriage to George Elliott Powell, Jr., will take place in October.

The other guests were Mrs. Ellis Ralph Taylor, Mrs. Joseph Whitelaw Cotton, Mrs. Robert Kenyon Ripley, Mrs. Willard R. Ashburn, Jr., Mrs. John Ackles Tallaferra, Mrs. Harold Church Jones, Mrs. Ferebee Trafton, and Miss Jane Walker Robinson.

MRS. JETT ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MISS LAWRENCE

Mrs. Joseph Jett entertained on Tuesday afternoon at her home in Cavalier Park in honor of Mrs. Julian Lawrence, of Portsmouth, who, with Mr. Lawrence, is spending the winter at the Beach. The hours were from four to six and the guests numbered 100.

COCKTAIL PARTY TO HONOR MISS GRIMES, MR. POWELL

Miss Jane Walker Robinson will entertain Sunday afternoon at her home on 32nd Street at a cocktail party honoring Miss Margaret Leard Grimes and George Elliott Powell, Jr., whose marriage will take place Saturday, October 7, in Galilee Episcopal Church. Guests will number 35.

MARTIN—JONES

Capt. George Dewey Martin, USN, and Mrs. Martin, of Virginia Beach and Coronado, Calif., announce the marriage of their niece, June Albertina Jones, to Lieut. Hampton Emanuel Mulligan, USN, on September 3, at the Chapel of the Sky, Oceana NAAS. The couple will make their home at Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Richard Ziesing and her daughter, Miss Martha Ann Ziesing, of Ardmore, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Ziesing's mother, Mrs. J. M. Darden, at her cottage on 39th Street.

Miss Joan Faw, daughter of Mrs. Grace N. Faw, 19th Street, left Sunday for Richmond to start her sophomore year at Richmond Professional Institute.

Miss Kirkland Tucker will leave Wednesday to resume her studies at Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Va.

Among those who will leave today to resume their studies at the University of Virginia are John F. Winn, III, Charles and Craig Singluff, Roddy Watson and Frank Smith, Jr.

Mrs. Ellis Ralph Taylor and two children, of Birmingham, Ala., arrived this week to visit Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Albert L. Grimes, at her home on 54th Street.

Midshipman Walter Maser has returned to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., after spending six weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Norfleet, Jr., at their home on 53rd Street.

Mrs. J. V. P. Quackenbush, of Scranton, Pa., was a recent guest at the Martha Washington Hotel.

"Caulk" is commonly pronounced "cork." The word caulk means to pack a seam in the planking of a ship.

Initial Fall Meeting Of Princess Anne Garden Club Held

The Princess Anne Garden Club, founded in 1932, met for the initial fall meeting at the home of Mrs. Oscar Smith, 69th Street, with Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, president, welcoming members.

Winners of the blue ribbon for an arrangement at the Princess Anne County Fair were Mrs. M. Bagley Walker and Mrs. Gray Parker, representing the Princess Anne Garden Club.

Horticultural reports of interest to members were given by Mrs. Raymond Pritchard, who grew an Easter lily in her garden on Cavalier Drive which produced twelve blooms on two stalks; and Mrs. Oscar Smith, who described test narsissus bulbs in her garden on 69th Street which in six years had multiplied from ten to over one hundred bulbs.

Colonial homes to be opened for Historic Garden Week in Princess Anne County must be listed by October 10, according to Mrs. Raymond Pritchard, chairman for the 1951 opening.

The wildflower planting at the preserve on Lake Lawson will be held October 9, with a box lunch to follow.

Applications Due For Naval Academy By September 30

The Commandant of the Fifth Naval District announces that applications for appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy by eligible members of the Volunteer and Organized Naval Reserve must be submitted prior to September 30, 1950. The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to appoint 100 midshipmen to the Naval Academy each year from enlisted men of the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve.

A limited number of reservists applying under this quota who are applied to active duty will be assigned to the Naval School and College Preparatory. These provisions do not apply to reservists on active duty in connection with the Naval Reserve Program.

Last year 683 reservists made application with only 13 of these applications coming from the Fifth Naval District. Of the total number, 138 applicants were appointed as midshipmen to the Academy.

Training School at Methodist Church September 25-29

A training school for teachers and members of churches at Virginia Beach and surrounding area will be held the week of September 25 to 29, inclusive, at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, according to an announcement by the pastor, the Rev. Frank H. VanDyck. The school is being held on an interdenominational basis. Mrs. VanDyck said. Cooperating churches which are sponsoring the course are: Oceana Methodist Church, Virginia Beach Presbyterian Church, and the Virginia Beach Methodist Church.

Instructors are: Mrs. J. H. Davis, of Lynchburg, on "Youth and Worship," a class designed primarily for young people and youth workers; and the Rev. L. C. Shearer, of Leesburg, on "Religious Living."

The course will begin nightly at 7:45, with a 15-minute worship period, followed by a five-minute intermission, and the two 50-minute classes.

Volunteers Assist As 300 Are X-Rayed At County Fair

Nearly 300 persons attending the Princess Anne County Fair availed themselves of the opportunity of a free chest X-ray, which was offered by the Princess Anne Tuberculosis Association in cooperation with the County Health Department.

Everyone who had a chest X-ray was given a chance on a $25.00 United States Savings Bond. The drawing took place at the close of the fair and was won by Roy T. Booker, Jr., 8720 Gamel Street, Norfolk.

Many volunteers assisted in registering those being X-rayed. Among them were Mrs. E. M. Hardy, Mrs. Frank C. Booker, Mrs. W. R. Ashburn, Jr., Mrs. J. L. Lyle, Mrs. D. Stormont, Mrs. H. L. Holland, Miss Mary Lee, Miss Anne Kitchen, Miss Anne Culpepper, Miss Jane Robinson, Mrs. Jack Miner, Mrs. John B. Baines, and many others.

Mrs. E. M. Hardy, president of the Princess Anne Tuberculosis Association, said she wished to thank all who assisted and who had X-rays for their interest and participation in the work.

"Tales of the Virginia Coast" Title of New Book Out Soon

"The Lost Ships of Virginia Beach" will be the title of one chapter of a book which will be published early next month by The Dietz Press of Richmond, titled "Tales of the Virginia Coast," by Pocahontas Wight Edmunds.

The sources of the tales and legends were found by Mrs. Edmunds upon the dustiest shelf and sandiest shore. For years, the author searched old records, perused old documents, talked to the plain folk and fishermen, lived in libraries and frequented the Mariner's Museum finding and listening to hitherto unpublished tales of the romantic Virginia coast.

In time, Mrs. Edmunds had collected and written in manuscript form one of the most interesting and lusty series of tales ever gotten together on this section of the Old Dominion.

The first thirteen chapters of her book deal with the "lost" things of the Virginia coast. There are chapters on "The Lost Princess," "The Lost Lord," "The Lost Love-Suit," "The Lost Marriage,"

The style and format of the new volume is typical of the fine examples of book-making being done by The Dietz Press of Richmond. The type chosen by the Dietz designer is 11-point Garamond with large plain initials for each chapter. The illustrations and text are printed on a soft white coated paper and the book is bound in full cloth with stamping on the front and backbone.

Cpl. William Bennett Korean Casualty

Word has been received here of the death in action in Korea of Corporal William Bennett, of Jacksonville, Illinois, about August 7.

Corporal Bennett was stationed many months at Fort Story and had a wide circle of friends at Virginia Beach and in this area. He left Fort Story on May 30, with a 20-day leave, after which he reported to the West Coast for transportation to Occupied Japan. He remained there four days before being sent to Korea.

The National Education Association estimates that 12,559 classrooms will be under construction during the remainder of 1950 and 1951 in 857 cities throughout the United States. The cities range from 2,500 to over 500,000 in population.

Home pasteurization of milk gives the farm family the same protection as families who buy milk from modern pasteurization plants.

And, it's easy to do. A circular, now available from the Agricultural Extension Service, V. F. I., Blacksburg, lists the few simple steps, and tells what equipment is needed in home pasteurization. Write for your free copy.

Chickens from the freezer. You will find them welcome for company meals, and to have on hand for extra busy days the year around.

Freeze and store excess birds from your flock. Cull the low-producing and the non-laying hens, and put them into a freezer for later use.

A leaflet, "Chicken in the Freezer," now available from the Agricultural Extension Service, V. F. I., Blacksburg, will give you tips on preparation of birds for freezing, and lists a few favorite chicken recipes.

Cooking without thawing is one way to make the most of that garden-fresh flavor and bright color in frozen vegetables. Quick cooking is best for vegetables, so have water boiling. Then take the frozen vegetables right from the freezing compartment and put them in the water. If you're fixing broccoli, you may prefer to thaw it enough so you can break the stalks apart before putting them into boiling water.

Freezing Cakes

Bake when you have some extra time—then serve when you wish. Make up a batch of your favorite cake, and freeze it baked or unbaked. Cake batter will keep three or four months. Cake will keep four to six months.

If you want to freeze the batter, pour it into any moisture-vapor-proof container such as those used for freezing fruits. It also may be poured into greased cake pans.

original wrapper. Bake the cake in a pan covered on the bottom with greased waxed paper. The cake usually rises higher if the sides of the pan are not greased. Remove the cake from the pan and cool it to room temperature before you package it, to prevent moisture from gathering on the top crust, and to speed freezing. Package in amounts that can be used at one time. Frozen baked cakes tend to lose freshness after thawing. Until boxes are manufactured to fit standard layers and leaves, a satisfactory method for packaging is to wrap the baked cake in cellophane and heat-seal it, or wrap in aluminum foil and freeze. To use it, thaw it in the original wrapper.

If you want to freeze the baked cake, freeze it as soon after cooling as possible to preserve fresh goodness. Angel and sponge cakes are best frozen baked.

Draft Board to Call 121 for Examination Before October 13

Sixty-eight Princess Anne County men are slated to report to Richmond for pre-induction examinations September 28, and another 53 on October 13, according to Mrs. Vivian McLanahan of the Selective Service Office.

Mrs. McLanahan said that since July a total of 167 have been called up from Princess Anne County for examination.

Rejections have been heavy, Mrs. McLanahan said, most of the boys failing in the qualification or mental tests. In one group of 13, only two were able to pass the pre-induction examinations; in another group of 26 only five passed.

Leadership Training School Begins Monday At Charity Church

The Southern Princess Anne Methodist Leadership Training School will be held next week at Charity Methodist Church, according to the Rev. J. W. Reynolds, Jr. Beginning on Monday night, it will continue through Friday, opening each evening at 7:15 with a devotional period. Two 50-minute class periods will add up to bring adjournment at 9:30.

Two classes will be offered. "Personal Religious Living" will be taught by the Rev. A. E. Acey, pastor of Monumental Methodist Church, in Portsmouth. Mr. Acey is secretary of evangelism for the Virginia Annual Conference and a well qualified to teach this course. "Christian Education in the Church" is the course which will be taught by the Rev. J. A. McKenry, Jr., pastor of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church in Richmond.

The courses will be open to all interested persons over 15 years of age. Church school officers and teachers especially are expected to attend. The cooperating churches are Salem, Nimmo, Tabernacle, Charity, Beech Grove, Knotts Island, and Bethel.

Frigidaire to Star Bob Hope on TV Show September 23

Bob Hope, with two spectacular TV appearances to his credit, will star in the third of a series of colorful variety shows on September 23 over the National Broadcasting television circuit. It is announced by a spokesman for Frigidaire, sponsor of the event.

Once more a brilliant array of top-flight talent, including foremost screen, radio and TV artists will appear along with Hope during the special 60-minute telecast. They will include Dinah Shore, Lucille Ball, Bob Crosby, Al Goodman's Orchestra, and the Jack Cole Dancers.

The Frigidaire show is slated to be kinescoped over station WTAR-TV on September 23, 10 to 11 p.m. The tremendous response of millions of the nation's television viewers resulting from Hope's previous TV appearances points to a record audience for the third big show.

DAWSON BIBLE CLASS HOLDS PICNIC MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Dawson Bible Class of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church met Monday afternoon on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Etta M. Edwards, Bird Neck and Laskin Road. Sixteen members and one visitor, the Rev. Frank Van Dyck, pastor, were present.

A picnic lunch was followed by a business session over which the president, Mrs. Ines Garrett, presided.

11th Anniversary To Be Observed By Women's Club

Chesapeake Beach Club To Hear Adm. Hipp at Luncheon

The Women's Club of Chesapeake Beach will celebrate the 11th anniversary of its organization at a luncheon on Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the Pine Tree Inn. Rear Admiral T. Earle Hipp (SC) USN, Commanding Officer, Naval Supply Center, Norfolk, will be the speaker. Mrs. R. W. Spruill, chairman of international relations and council of international clubs, will have charge of the program. Mrs. T. J. Austin, chairman of the club's fine arts department, will present Mrs. W. E. Brandt, singer, and Mrs. J. L. Judge, accompanist, in a program of songs.

Admiral Hipp is a native of Newberry, South Carolina, and a graduate of the Citadel Military College of South Carolina. His commission in the Navy dates from June 20, 1917, and since that time he has been on active duty ashore and afloat. He served on patrol duty and has held a number of sea and land posts on both coasts, in Europe and in the Pacific. He has been awarded the Legion of Merit for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service to the government.

During the coming year the Chesapeake Beach Women's Club will concentrate its efforts on financing the construction of a modern community center being erected on the site of the present community house. The club has contributed its property, consisting of two lots measuring 100 by 200 feet, and the present community house, to the Chesapeake Beach Community Center, Inc., for this purpose. The corporation is composed of representatives of the women's club, the men's club, and the volunteer fire department of Chesapeake Beach. In addition to the property, a cash donation of $200 has been made from the club treasury.

The modern community center will replace the war-time barracks building which the women's club purchased from the government, converted, and opened six years ago as the Chesapeake Beach Community House. The club has held title to the property for six years but the facilities have been used by the entire community free of charge, except in case of private parties.

The new community center will be the primary objective of the club, however, its charitable and philanthropic work will continue, as will its programs for the promotion of youth conservation, public welfare, citizenship, education, health and safety.

Special guests at the anniversary luncheon Tuesday will be officers of the Sixth District, VPWC, and representatives of women's clubs of the vicinity, and representatives of the press and radio.

The committee in charge of arrangements is comprised of Mrs. E. L. King, Mrs. R. J. Veilins, Mrs. V. G. Allen and Mrs. C. G. Clough, assisted by the president, Mrs. L. L. Dillon.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION FOR STENCIL CUTTER AND MARKER ANNOUNCED

A Civil Service Examination for the position of Stencil Cutter and Marker, for appointment in various Federal agencies in the Norfolk and Portsmouth area, is now open. It is announced by B. Clark Bell, Recorder of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Fifth Naval District. Salaries for the position range from $7.94 per day to $8.00 per day.

No written test is required for this examination. Applicants will be rated on the basis of their experience and training as described in their applications.

Complete information and application forms may be obtained from the Recorder, or from any first- or second-class post office in this area.

994-H Members to Attend Atlantic Rural Exposition

County 4-Hers Will Go to Richmond Tuesday, October 3

Ninety-nine members of the Princess Anne County 4-H Clubs will attend the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond, locally known as the Virginia State Fair, on Tuesday, October 3, which has been designated as 4-H Club and Future Farmer's Day.

H. W. Ostin, county agent, announced that two Norfolk Southern buses have been chartered to take the 4-H members to the fair. The members will come from the following clubs: Kempville Junior, 8; Oceana Senior, 12; Oceana Junior, 5; Center, 12; Croeds Senior, 10; Croeds Junior, 8; and Bayville, 4.

The members will be accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Grace Pentreas, 4-H Club sponsor at Center School; Mrs. Louise Lee, 4-H Club sponsor at Kempville School; Mrs. R. F. Humphries, 4-H leader at Kempville School; and J. W. Brothers, assistant county agent.

The 4-H Club members will have an opportunity to observe members of the state in action, as well as to study exhibits of all types and the trip should prove to be very beneficial to all 4-H members. Mr. Ostin said.

In addition to the members attending, a truck load of 4-H exhibits will be taken up to the Exposition and entered in competition with other clubs members throughout the state. The exhibits from Princess Anne will consist of about 45 entries of poultry and numerous exhibits of corn, soybeans, garden, Irish potatoes, and sweet potatoes. The exhibits will have been judged when the members arrive on Tuesday and they will have an opportunity to note their winnings, if any, as well as compare their exhibits with others at the Exposition.

OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Benefit Show for Oceana Band at Drive-In Tuesday

The Virginia Beach Drive-In Theatre, on Laskin Road, will be the scene of a benefit show for the Oceana School Band next Tuesday night, October 3. The feature picture that evening will be "Everybody Does It," starring Linda Darnell and Paul Douglas. Regular admission prices will prevail for this show and the Oceana Band will receive proceeds from the sale of all tickets made prior to that evening. Band members are asking that tickets for the show to help the band in their effort to purchase new uniforms be secured from members of the band, Harrell's Pharmacy at Virginia Beach, Land's Store at Pungo, Woolston's Store at Lynnhaven, J. D. Murden & Son at London Bridge, or W. S. McKenney & Son at Oceana. The band will be on hand Tuesday night to furnish music between shows.

The Oceana Band has contracted with Outward, Inc., uniform manufacturers of New York City, to supply new uniforms for this group. The total cost of this equipment will be approximately $4,500. Delivery is expected before the end of the football season.

This Friday night when the Oceana Cavaliers face the Franklin High School eleven at the Cavalier Stadium, the band will be on hand to furnish music. Saturday morning the band will go to Williamsburg where they will play for the William & Mary-Cromwell game that afternoon.

Junior Woman's Club to Collect Clothes for Needy

Drive Begins Early As Need Seen Greater By County Residents

The Welfare Department of the Junior Woman's Club, under the chairmanship of Miss Mabel Britt, has started the collection of clothing for needy Princess Anne County residents, it was announced yesterday.

The clothing will be cleaned and repairs made by the Junior Women before distribution. In the meantime, the Welfare Department will carry on its investigation of homes where need is greatest, information on sizes secured along with other pertinent data.

The Junior Women have launched a drive to obtain used clothing for distribution. They will accept all clothing, but are particularly interested in all children's sizes.

Persons with clothing to donate are urged to leave it with William Fenderson at the Community House. If they have no way of getting the clothes to the Community House, they may get in touch with Miss Britt, Virginia Beach 2090-R, or Mrs. J. W. Walcott, Jr., Virginia Beach 1937-J, who will make arrangements to have it picked up.

The drive for clothes for the needy, which is an annual affair, has been put ahead of the usual time around Christmas because the need throughout the county has been found to be urgent at this time, the Junior Women said. Both white and Negro families are assisted.

Disabled Veterans Present Flag

The Disabled Veterans of Chapter 20 of Virginia Beach recently presented a new flag to Oceana High School. B. C. Davis, representing Comdr. C. A. Walker, who was unable to be present, presented the flag to M. P. Strickler, principal of Oceana High School.

Mr. Davis, who is past commander of Chapter 20, is now service officer for the organization of World War I and World War II veterans.

Cheerleaders Named By Oceana Students

New cheerleaders for 1950-51 were elected by the Oceana High School student body last week following a pep rally for Oceana's first game of the season with Norview. The cheerleaders chosen included Jan Palmer, Doris Harcum, Catherine Meeks and Juanita Aldridge.

Last year's six cheerleaders, Bessie Caffrey, captain, Leona Holt, co-captain, Mae Coleman, co-captain, Marjorie Shaffer, Jan Midgett, and Leggie Malbone, led the cheering for Norview.

Last Friday Oceana staged another pep rally, with all ten cheerleaders taking part.

Cavaliers to Meet Franklin Tonight

The Franklin High School football squad will meet the Oceana Cavaliers at the Cavalier Stadium tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock.

Last week the Oceana Cavaliers won their first game of the season by defeating the Deep Creek eleven 7 to 6. The Deep Creek team took command of the situation at the kickoff. Although their only score came early in the first period, they managed to keep Oceana back in their own territory for three quarters. During the first three periods Oceana stopped several strong goalward drives.

Later in the period Oceana brought out a strong passing attack to score. With one minute and forty seconds to go to Joe Johnson threw a long pass to "Joe" Fall for the score. A pass was completed for the extra point, giving Oceana the 7-6 edge.

Cooke P-T. A. Will Observe Father's Night Monday

Father's Night will be celebrated by the W. T. Cooke School Parent-Teacher Association next Monday, October 2, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. A special request to all parents to attend the function has been issued by Mrs. Aubrey N. Holmes, president.

A program has been arranged which includes a reading by Miss Carol Simpson, songs by a quartette consisting of W. Fred Bonney, Jr., Joseph R. White, Jr., E. R. McCotter, and B. C. McCleskey, and other entertainment.

A reception will follow the meeting, which will afford parents the opportunity of meeting their children's teachers.

Wife Finally Gets Message Written by Seaman Husband

A message sent in June 1948 addressed to Mrs. C. L. Hunter of Bay Colony has been received by her after a journey across the Atlantic and back again.

Chief Engineer Hunter, of the S. S. Hiltner, sent the message to his wife when his ship was off the coast of Puerto Rico in June 1948. Messages frequently are tossed over the side of the ship in sealed bottles, it was explained, and they are picked up by fishermen after they float to shore, and are sent on their way. The bottle containing the letter to Mrs. Hunter, however, drifted in the opposite direction.

Presumably picked up by the Gulf Stream, the bottle next showed up on the beach at Laccuna Plage, near Sausal in the Gironde in France where it was discovered by a M. Drigod on August 26 this year. He in turn reported his find to the American Consul at Bordeaux, who sent the message to the State Department.

Mrs. Hunter's letter found its way to her, via the State Department in Washington on September 25, just two years and three months after it was dispatched by Mr. Hunter.

State Convention of Business, Professional Women Here in 1951

The state convention of the Virginia Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held at Virginia Beach May 26-28, 1951, it is announced by Mrs. Mark White, news service chairman of the Virginia Beach club. The decision was made at the Planning Conference and Fall Meeting of the Executive Board of the organization.

The Beach club is at work on plans now to make the State convention an interesting and successful event, Mrs. White said.

Members of the local club attending the board meeting were: Mrs. Rosalie Mergler, president, Miss Lillian Asher, Miss Edna Kneebell, Mrs. White, Mrs. Virginia Holland, and Miss Sallie Minter.

RAY COLONY GARDEN CLUB TO MEET OCTOBER 4

The first meeting of the season of the Ray Colony Garden Club will be held Wednesday, October 4, at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Goodwin S. Jordan. Mrs. C. T. Goodwin will serve as co-hostess. All members are urged to attend.

Kempville, Oceana Students Organize Distributor's Clubs

Betty Need, Kempville High School, and Floyd Brown, Oceana High School, were elected presidents of their respective high school's Distributor's Club at meetings held last week.

Students participating in the clubs are those taking Distributive Education, a course pertaining to retailing. Students receive in class a general background in retailing by studying courses on display, advertising, store math, stock keeping, salesmanship, store operation and merchandise information, and in the afternoon they work in retailing establishments.

Both local clubs are members of the Associated Distributors Clubs of Virginia and the Distributive Education Clubs of America.

The officers elected at Kempville, in addition to Miss Need, the president, are: Nancy Moxley, vice president; Dolores Roberts, secretary; Phyllis Godfrey, treasurer; Joan Laramy, editor and promotional manager; James Stone, parliamentarian; Eva Bowman, program committee chairman; Don Burks, social committee chairman; and Uset Beasley, membership chairman.

The officers at Oceana, in addition to Floyd Brown, president, are: Buddy Carroll, vice president; Allera Malbon, secretary; Doris Miller, treasurer; Melvina Urey, editor and promotional manager; Dalton Midgett, parliamentarian; Neva Winston, program committee chairman; Joe Burroughs, social committee chairman; and Clarence Snyder, membership chairman.

Insurance Coverage Increased by Savings, Loan Association

Effectively immediately, savings accounts of the Virginia Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association will be insured against loss up to $10,000, according to W. H. Terry, Jr., managing officer of the local association. The maximum previous coverage was $5,000. This increased coverage will be provided at no cost to customers of the association and applies equally to all savings accounts held by individuals, two persons with right of survivorship, trusteeships, partnerships and corporations.

This increase of protection for savings follows the signing into law by President Truman of legislation recently passed by Congress and it applies to all associations whose savings accounts are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

"Last year," Mr. Terry said, "our association paid out over a thousand dollars in premiums to provide this insurance for our investors. Across the country as a whole, nearly $11,000,000 was paid in premiums by insured associations to the FSILIC."

Mr. Terry said that as of June 30, 1950, there were insured savings associations all over the country which held savings of the public in the amount of $10,745,000,000. At present approximately 93 per cent of all savings held by insured institutions are in accounts of $5,000 or less. With the increased coverage, the total of accounts insured will rise to 98 per cent.

"It is expected that the number of persons with savings accounts over $5,000 will rise steadily as the public becomes more and more familiar with provisions of the new law," he said.

BAKE AND HANDIWORK SALE AT LYNNHAVEN CIVIC HALL

The Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church will hold a bake and handiwork sale tomorrow, Saturday, September 30, at 2:30 p.m. at the Lynnhaven Civic Hall.

Membership Drive By Little Theatre To Start Monday

Headquarters for the Little Theatre membership drive, which begins October 2, will be located at the Community House, is announced by Mrs. R. P. Trant, Jr., membership chairman.

The box office will be open from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily and all those wishing to make reservations are asked to call in person at that time, or to telephone 1934. Mrs. Trant will also take reservations at Virginia Beach 42-J-13. The drive will end with the theatre's first production, "John Loves Mary," a comedy, which will be produced October 22 and 23 at the Roland Theatre.

Mrs. R. G. Thurman, chairman of casting, and Mrs. Arthur Masury, director, announce the following cast for "John Loves Mary":

In the title roles are two Little Theatre favorites, Constance Crockett Crosby as Mary McKinnley, and Hardy Cole, Jr., as John Lawrence. Sam Foote, Jane LeGigle, Captain Alfred Randolph, Sam Pidgeon, Conrad Little, Harry Rumble and James Allen make up the rest of the cast of experienced actors.

The Little Theatre will use the Roland for rehearsals and productions this season. The Roland was completely renovated last summer by an out-of-town theatrical group. Excellent backstage facilities, as well as comfortable seating arrangements, should make this the biggest season yet for the Little Theatre. The Roland leaves nothing to be desired as far as acoustics are concerned.

Council of Garden Clubs Offers Prizes For Beautification

Clubs Hope Awards Will Bring About Much Improvement

The Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will offer $600 in defense bonds as prizes to go to individuals and businesses who show the most improvement in the beautification of their properties.

The contest, the details of which will be announced later, was decided upon at a meeting last week of the group. Six prizes will be given for improvement and beautification of business property, hotels, vacant lots, gasoline stations, rural property and residences. A committee is to be appointed to work out the details and dates the contest will run, according to Mrs. Floyd Dornire, president of the council. Money for the prizes was realized last June when the council held a benefit dance.

Officers for the coming year were also elected at the Thursday meeting as follows: Mrs. Dornire, president; Mrs. George T. Muller, vice president; Mrs. Rudolph Walton, secretary; Mrs. Hugh W. Lindsey, secretary; and Mrs. C. W. Emanuelson, treasurer.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF GALLERIE CHURCH TO HOLD PLANT SALE OCTOBER 3

The Women's Auxiliary of Galleries Episcopal Church will hold a plant sale Tuesday, October 3 from 10:30 until 3 p.m. in the church yard, Atlantic Avenue near 18th Street. Shrubs, plants, bulbs and seeds and cut flowers will be on sale. The ladies request gardeners that now is the time to plant for next spring and summer.

Great Neck Zoning Proposal Draws Strong Dissension

It appears that Princess Anne County will have its centralized agricultural offices after all. The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, meeting Monday in its regular September session, voted to call for bids for the structure. Estimated cost was set at $33,000.

The proposed building would assemble all offices of agricultural service, plus other county functions, under one roof near the existing courthouse site.

It would bring the Production and Marketing Administration office from Fungo, take the Soil Conservation office from a small building behind the jail and give the county's home demonstration and 4-H clubs a general meeting place and headquarters, besides providing the Agricultural Extension Service with new and larger offices.

It also would house the county Welfare Department, now in a building across the road from the courthouse, and provide additional space for the use of the School Board, along with other contemplated uses.

The board's vote was greeted with applause from the audience.

Mrs. C. F. Thomson, chairman of the county's home demonstration clubs and general chairman of the effort to obtain the building, started organized efforts on January 28, first appearing before the board in February.

A preliminary bid of $33,000 was made on plans previously submitted for the building. The board instructed Louis A. Oliver, architect, to complete plans for the building. Bids then will be called for on both a contract basis and a fixed fee basis.

Zoning Ordinance for Great Neck

Efforts to pass a zoning ordinance for the Great Neck area ended in the calling of a special meeting Thursday at 4 p.m.

Modelled after a Loudoun County zoning plan, the proposed ordinance would designate residence

The Board of Supervisors, in a special meeting yesterday, passed the zoning ordinance which would affect the Great Neck area. Described by its sponsors as an ordinance which would be of great benefit to all property owners in the area, the measure was opposed by farmers of the section who believed that rural farm lands should be exempted from the provisions.

areas, farming areas and business areas, and restrict abortions, junk yards, hog-raising operations, and erection of signs, among other things, within the area bounded on the south by Highway 58 and the Laskin Road, on the west by Highway 632 and Lynnhaven River, and on the east by Laskin Bay.

Citizens sponsoring the zoning included County Trial Justice J. Davis Reed, Jr., Mrs. Emmet Kyle, Mrs. Crawford Syer and Mrs. Bentley Byrd.

The opposition was led by V. Alfred (Jack) Elberdine, president of the Princess Anne County Park Bureau, and John W. Potter and R. F. Trant, farmers of the area. They presented resolutions of the bureau objecting to the zoning of the area until it becomes more urbanized, and a petition signed by 20 residents opposing the zoning ordinance.

Commonwealth's Attorney Paul W. Ashkin was instructed to confer with the Board of Supervisors regarding the zoning ordinance, which is part of the Chesapeake Bay service.

THE BEACH'S DILEMMA

In recent weeks all conversations among Virginia Beach people and people interested in Virginia Beach invariably turn to the saving of the ocean front property below 17th Street. The seriousness of the erosion, the damage recently done the seawall, the danger to the ocean front hotels and cottages—all of these things receive the attention of the citizens.

Many of the solutions that have been worked out have been passed along to us—many are sound, many would appear to be inefficient, to say the least. There is, however, one basic assumption in all: that it will cost a whole of a lot of money—at least a million and a half.

One solution, in particular, appears in recent days to be standing out in the thinking of the people. It is, unfortunately, based on the assumption that there is a sizeable payoff somewhere along the line from the illegitimate businesses which apparently thrive in the county and in the town, in addition to the $1,000 license fee paid to Virginia Beach town coffers by such establishments located within the town limits.

This plan, propounded to us by a very prominent man, is as follows:

It is agreed that the town (which has a population of slightly more than 5,000 people) could not add the financing of a million and a half dollars or more to an already heavy tax burden.

His plan would call for 10 or 12 representative men outside of Princess Anne County to appear before the General Assembly of Virginia and request the needed funds. That failing, they would call for local option. But the General Assembly does not meet again until 1952—to late to help—so our men would have to appeal to the powers that be, whoever they are.

It is generally assumed that a request for the calling of a special session of the Assembly to take up either monetary assistance or local option would be refused.

The proponent of the plan then declared that in such a case it would be the duty of our county and town governments to protect the life and property of its citizens by openly licensing such operations as now are illegal in order to pay the bill. Then, instead of payment of protection money, as is the common assumption (with the money channeled into who-knows-what fund), it would go into a fund which would benefit the entire community. Our man said that it is his belief that the people of the town and county would stand behind their local officials, even if it meant opposing the laws of the Commonwealth openly; that the people have a right to help themselves.

This solution, however, appears to the News to be good up to a certain point. We believe it is a State as well as a local problem. If the State cannot help financially, we believe that local option is the answer.

Where the plan breaks down is its open defiance of law and order. Because a local governing body finds it expedient to break a law is no reason to believe that it is good. It continues to base the economy of our community upon a false and parasitic foundation.

We cannot go along with open contempt of law and order that such a plan would exemplify.

The News is confident that there is a solution. The News is equally confident that this is not it.

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 27, 1929

The Virginia Beach News for September 27, 1929, reported that storm damage was light at Virginia Beach following a seven-day northeast blow which caused heavy damage on the east coast from Cape Hatteras north to the Jersey coast. "Except for a slight erosion along the beach front and a few telegraph and electric lines out of commission, little damage in the immediate vicinity" was caused, the News reported. At Ocean View, the seawall washed away in some sections, but the damage was not serious. Down on the Caroline coast, a ship was wrecked off Kill Devil Hill, and 21 men and one woman were removed to safety by the Coast Guard.

A fire of undetermined origin broke out in the Virginia Dare Hall, with dense volumes of smoke pouring from the smoldering building.

Seth E. Gordon, national conservation director of the Isaac Walton League, was invited to make an investigation of the damage to fresh water fish and food for wild fowl in the Currituck Sound and the Back Bay section.

Mrs. Martin Franco

Mrs. Martin Van Duyn Franco, Dutch-born American painter who specialized in oil and water-color landscapes, died in Sumar on Aurore, France, September 9 while on a painting tour. She was 67. Born in Gouda, the Netherlands, Mrs. Franco came to the United States in 1909 and was naturalized in 1944. She was best known for her landscapes of Mexico, Guatemala, the United States, Holland, France and Italy. In 1944 there was an exhibition of her water-colors at Holland House in Rockefeller Center, with proceeds donated to the Netherlands Aid Society.

Her survivors include a son.

John Franco, of Virginia Beach, a composer, who flew to France to arrange for the funeral, which took place September 26. Mrs. Franco was buried in the family plot at The Hague, in the Netherlands.

When Mrs. Franco was not traveling, she made her home in Virginia Beach with John and Elaine Franco.

Virginia Beach, Virginia
Dear Sirs:

In behalf of the Princess Anne Fair Committee, I wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone in your organization for your splendid cooperation and assistance in helping make our recently held Fair successful.

We could not have asked for more from a standpoint of publicity. The special issue of your paper dealing with the Fair was greatly appreciated and were it not for our good friends like you, we could not attempt to stage such an undertaking.

It is my desire that my thanks be conveyed to every member of your staff for giving so freely and unstintingly of their time and efforts.

Again with many thanks and best wishes to all of you, I am,

Cordially yours,

ELIZABETH W. MULLEN,
Co-Chairman, Princess Anne County Fair.

due to salt water going through the Albemarle and Chesapeake canal. Several organizations favored the installation of a lock to prevent the flow of salt water.

A mammoth still of the steam boiler type was raided by special officer Phelps and county officer Clark. The still was going full blast when the officers appeared on the scene. Two thousand gallons of mash and 68 gallons of the finished product were confiscated with the still, which was the largest ever found in the district.

Walter Hill and Bryant Dudley, of Pungo, returned from a motor trip to Washington, D. C., Atlantic City, and New York City. They reported having a wonderful time.

The Poe and Page Literary Societies of Kempville School elected officers for the year. Miss Goldie Wood was elected president of the Poe group and Miss Edith Jones president of the Page society.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Princess Anne held its regular meeting with Mrs. Ralph Fountain presiding. Committees were appointed as follows: membership: Mrs. Edward Land, Mrs. Hattie Eaton, and Miss Ethel Litchfield; finance: Mrs. Gertrude Whitehurst, Mrs. W. D. Malbon, and Mrs. J. C. Litchfield; social: Mrs. J. M. Bratten, Miss Lena Chilton, and Mrs. J. M. Burton.

500,000 DAY IN VEPCOLAND!

489,999 Customers — plus the Murray Family makes HALF A MILLION customers who now enjoy VEPCO's low-cost electric service!

SEPTEMBER 1950 marks a milestone in the service history of VEPCO, and in the personal lives of one of Virginia's farm families. With the connection of electricity to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Murray, in Halifax County, about half way between South Boston and Danville, the number of VEPCO customers becomes 500,000—and another American farm family begins to enjoy the benefits of low-cost electric service.

The occasion was marked by a celebration at the hospitable Murray farm, at which time it was VEPCO's pleasure to present an electric range, refrigerator and radio to its half-millionth customer. Among the more than 200 guests, including friends and neighbors of the Murrays and officials of the power company, were the former Governor of Virginia, William M. Tuck, and Jack G. Holtzclaw, President of the Virginia Electric and Power Company.

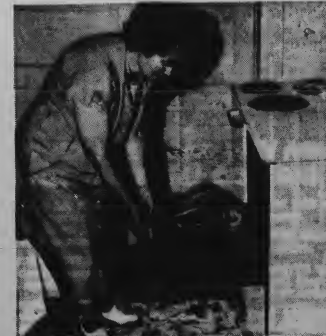

For many years VEPCO has pioneered electric service to the rural areas of VEPCOLAND... and since January 1, 1946, VEPCO has added 140,000 customers to its system... 14 new customers every working hour, 1 new customer nearly every four minutes. This includes 67,000 new rural customers and has involved the construction of 9,300 miles of new rural lines — enough to extend from Norfolk to San

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Murray receive congratulations from Jack G. Holtzclaw, President of VEPCO. At the microphone is George Pease, news analyst of WRVA, who was guest of the celebration.

Francisco and back—and back again to San Francisco!

The significance of making our 500,000th service connection is not that of adding just one more customer. The significance is that a business-managed, tax-paying company, owned by 27,000 stockholders, is ready, willing and able to provide such a great service for so many people at so little cost to them. That's our American pattern... free enterprise... and because of it, our plans for the future can soundly anticipate the next 500,000 customers who will enjoy low-cost electrical living in VEPCOLAND!

Mr. Murray prepares for first meal on his electric range, a gift from VEPCO. The Murray family also received an electric refrigerator and a radio on VEPCO's 500,000th electric customer.

William M. Tuck, former Governor of Virginia, congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Murray, at their farm home near South Boston, Virginia.

David Pender
Buried Monday
In Forest Lawn

David Pender, 76, well known and beloved civic leader and for many years a summer resident of the Beach, died last Friday in the University Hospital, Charlottesville, Va.

The body was taken from his residence in Norfolk to the First Presbyterian Church for services on Monday, with the Rev. Jason L. MacMillan officiating. Burial was in the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Pender, who was chairman of the board of the Southgate Brokerage Company, Inc., was for 20 years president of the board of directors of the Norfolk General Hospital and remained a member of its board until the time of his death.

Although he had long been active in various phases of social, civic and church work, it was chiefly because of his conspicuous services to the hospital that he was awarded the Cosmopolitan Club's First Citizen Medal for Norfolk in 1933.

He was born in Baltimore, Md., on March 20, 1874, son of Robert H. and Mrs. Martha Wallace Pender.

A Community Fund Founder

Twice campaign chairman of the Norfolk Community Fund, in 1926 and 1927, he also was one of its founders. He was a former president and director of the Tidewater Hospital Service Association and was a director of the Norfolk Hospital Association and Union Mission.

He was a former president of the Cavalier Hotel and of the Princess Anne Country Club. He had also been president of the Norfolk Retail Merchants Association and first vice president of the National Chain Grocers Association.

He had served with the 13th New York Regiment and the 1st North Carolina Regiment.

His Family

In 1902 he married Miss Mellic Whitehurst Pender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Pender, of Tarboro. They were married in Norfolk by the Rev. M. Bradshaw and had three children.

Mr. Pender resided at 536 Redgate Avenue and spent the summers at his summer home at Virginia Beach. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Sons of the American Revolution, Virginia Club and Princess Anne Country Club.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, David Pender, Jr., of Bay Colony, Virginia Beach; a daughter, Mrs. Hugh F. Thomson, of the Norfolk Naval Shipyard; two brothers, Lt. B. D. Pender, USN (ret.), U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, and Dr. Harold Pender, consulting engineer, of Philadelphia, and five grandchildren.

Kenneth E. Carroll

Funeral services for Kenneth Edwood Carroll were conducted at the Hollomon-Brown Funeral Home Sunday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. N. F. Hunt, pastor of Nimmo Methodist Church, and the Rev. R. A. Craig, pastor of the Charity Methodist Church. Pallbearers were W. P. Whitehurst, H. R. Bonney, J. R. Hartley, N. P. Brock, C. L. Dudley and K. S. Land. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

At current building costs it will take at least $10 billion in the next decade to put decent roofs over the heads of the public school population, according to the NEA.

Looking for honest-to-goodness COMFORT?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU'VE probably heard a lot of talk about comfort in 1950 cars.

But we'd like to offer one suggestion, which is—let a Buick speak for itself.

We'd like to have you settle yourself (your family too, if you have one) on a Buick's soft, deep, comfort-angled cushions, and see how restful they are.

More than this, we'd like you to sample that comfort in motion. Slip your fingers around that slender steering wheel, touch toe to treadle and take off in the smooth, unbroken surge of power that Dynaflo Drive* delivers.

We'd like to have you hunt out some of the less-smooth streets or back roads that never seem to get fixed—and put Buick's soft coil springing and solid underpinning to tough and practical test.

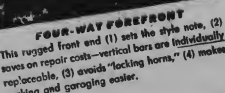

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

All the while, be thinking about what such riding and driving ease can mean on long, all-day trips, and compare it with what you've been used to.

This whole experience is bound to make you want a Buick—and when you ask "how much" you'll get a second pleasant surprise in the low delivered prices your dealer is quoting—prices that start at a level that is actually lower than you'd pay for some sixes.

Your Buick dealer is the man to see and this is the best of all times to see him. Drop in, won't you, to see about getting an order signed?

Barbara Haynes, Mr. Barber Married In Martinsville Saturday

The marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Haynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Alvis Haynes, of Martinsville, to William Vincent Barber, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Vivian Barber, of Virginia Beach, took place Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in Martinsville. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Edwin S. Sheppe in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with palms, magnolia boughs, baskets of white gladioli and lighted cathedral candles. Mrs. T. J. Eggleston played the wedding music and James H. Midgett sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length wedding gown of mouseline de soie and Chantilly lace made on princess lines. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a cap of Chantilly lace and orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of Calla lilies tied with white satin.

Miss Nancy Jean Haynes, of Martinsville, was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Betsey Romaine Kellam, of Bassett, was bridesmaid.

Dr. William Vivian Barber, of Virginia Beach, was best man for his son and the groomsmen were William A. Whitehurst and Lee O'Reilly, of Virginia Beach; John W. Fields, of Norfolk, and William E. Parker, of Baltimore, Md.

After the ceremony a reception was given at The Spinning Wheel in Martinsville. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Barber left for a motor trip through Virginia and upon their return they will reside at 404 West 52nd Street, Virginia Beach.

Ann E. Darden to Wed R. L. Hunter, Jr., In Recife, Brazil

Mrs. George Franklin Darden, of Virginia Beach, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Ann Everett Darden, to Robert Lee Hunter, Jr., of Recife, Brazil, and Norfolk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Hunter, of Norfolk.

Miss Darden is the daughter of the late George Franklin Darden, of Suffolk, and granddaughter of Mrs. John Morgan Darden, of Suffolk. She attended Miss Turnbull's School and is a graduate of The Shipley School, Bryn Mawr, Pa. She was graduated in June from Hollins College and was presented to society in 1947 at a ball given by the Norfolk German Club.

Mr. Hunter attended the Virginia Episcopal School, Lynchburg. He was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1948 and did a year's post graduate work at the University of Zurich, Switzerland. During World War II he served with the Armed Forces and holds a commission as a captain in the Army Reserve. He is now with the National City Bank of New York in Brazil.

The wedding will take place in November in Recife, Brazil.

Engagement of Miss Mary Minor Jordan Announced by Parents

Mr. and Mrs. James Matthias Jordan, Jr., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mary Minor, to William Allison Thomas, on Saturday, the fourteenth of October, at half after eight o'clock, in Galilee Episcopal Church and to the reception following the ceremony at the Princess Anne Club.

The Rev. Spencer Williams has returned to Boynton, Va., after visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Bruce Simmons, at her home on 52nd Street. Mrs. Williams and two children, Mayo and Mason, who also have been visiting Mrs. Simmons, will remain longer.

Here's MONEY to improve your home!

Now is the time to repair weather ravages to your home. New paint and wallpaper, new plumbing, wiring or floor-refinishing can do wonders to make your home more attractive and livable. But how to finance the improvements?

At "Commerce," of course, where you benefit from surprisingly low rates and may repay out of regular income in convenient monthly installments.

If your financing is to be arranged by your contractor, insist on a low-cost "Commerce" Home Modernization Loan. You can borrow up to $2,500 and take as long as three years to repay for home improvements at "Commerce"—so drop in and discuss your loan needs today.

Recipes of Princess Anne & Old Virginia

ORANGE MARMALADE

Here is a recipe for your column that didn't come from Princess Anne County, but it did come from England, and that makes it somewhat kin to our recipes. It is for orange marmalade, and it is very good we find.

Wash carefully three oranges and two lemons, then slice them, skin and all, as thin as possible. Place the sliced fruit in a crock and add two quarts of water. Let stand for 24 hours. Boil for one hour (use enamel pot), return to crock and add two quarts of sugar. Cover, and let stand for 24 hours. Boil again until the mixture jells, put in sterilized glass jars, cover with paraffin. It is important not to cook too long as it darkens the fruit. Watch the jelling point carefully.

—Mrs. James King

POPOVERS

Two eggs beaten, add 1 cup of flour, teaspoon of salt, 1 cup of milk and beat all together with a rotary egg beater. Add 4 tablespoons of melted butter or shortening. Put the mixture in a hot heavy iron muffin pan that has been well greased and cook at about 400 degrees until the popovers pop.

—Mrs. James King

Mrs. Crosby Guest Speaker at Bird Neck Garden Club Meeting

The Bird Neck Garden Club opened its fall schedule of meetings with Mrs. Albert V. Crosby, of Norfolk, as guest speaker. Mrs. Crosby, an accredited judge and instructor in floral art, spoke on "Judging Ethics." After her talk she judged arrangements brought by club members, explaining the merits and demerits of each.

At a short business meeting it was reported that a considerable amount of money had been realized by the club's benefit performance of the Theatre-Go-Round on September 3.

It was reported that the breakfast table setting with fruit arrangements shown at the recent fair won a blue ribbon and was runner-up for the tri-color.

Plans were discussed for the October meeting at which new members will be welcomed, and which will be held at the home of Mrs. Julius Schlain.

Mrs. Hugh W. Lindsay was hostess for the meeting.

An announcement by Henry J. Kaiser

The Henry J...the lowest-priced car in the low-price field.

'1299.

DELIVERED AT WILLOW RUN, WITH FEDERAL TAXES PAID. ONLY WHITE SIDE WALLS, DELUX BUMPER GUARDS AND LOCAL TAXES ADDITIONAL.

The most important new car in America!

Here today...The

Henry J.

Available in two models: Henry J. (as illustrated above), Henry J. Deluxe (six-cylinder at additional cost).

Important because...It's Smart! Smart to look at... smart to own! Notice the extra-wide doors...front seat 58 inches wide...head room and leg room galore! And—look! The back of the rear seat folds forward...giving you 51 cubic feet of storage space, almost double that of the largest sedan trunk compartment!

Important because...It's Tough! Husky, Double-Channel Frame, reinforced like a steel bridge! The rear axle Hypoid geared, as in most expensive cars. Extra-wide windshield and windows give you the largest vision area in any low-priced car...short turning radius permits the easiest parking.

Important because...It's Thrifty! You get 30 to 35 miles per gallon from the quiet, responsive Super-sonic Engine. (Henry J—4 cylinders, Henry J. Deluxe—6 cylinders.)

Lower first cost...lower maintenance...lower repair bills...lower insurance...lower operating cost. Your savings, in just two years, can more than total the down payment on the Henry J.

Built to Better the Best on the Road!

Costs less to buy...less to drive...less to maintain!

PARTIES TOMORROW AND SUNDAY WILL HONOR MISS GRIMES AND MR. POWELL

Clay Perry, Jr., David Stormont, Jr., and Raymond Long, Jr., will entertain tomorrow evening at the Cavalier Country Club in honor of Miss Margaret Leard Grimes and George Elliott Powell, Jr., whose marriage will take place Saturday evening, October 7, in Galilee Episcopal Church.

Miss Vivian Lyle will entertain Sunday afternoon at the LeMoine cottage at a cocktail party in honor of Miss Grimes and Mr. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Kyle have returned to their home in Alantion after visiting Mr. Kyle's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacRae, in Bel Air, Md., and spending some time at Big Meadows on the Skyline Drive.

MRS. ELLIOT HONORED AT MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. Norman Etheridge, Mrs. Lynn Mallory, and Mrs. Vernon Honeycutt were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Etheridge on 23rd Street in honor of Miss Jane S. Dill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dill of Virginia Beach, whose marriage to Lt. Robert Gleason, USA, of Baltimore, will take place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church.

Ensign William M. Flynn, USNR, left Sunday for Jacksonville, Fla., where he is ordered for duty. While in Jacksonville he will be the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph L. McClane, Jr.

Mrs. Louis Guy, Sr., has left to visit relatives in Richmond, Va.

The National Education Association estimates that a total of 750,000 new teachers will be needed from 1950 to 1960. At the present rate of preparation only 250,000 to 300,000 teachers can be expected during this decade to fill the 750,000 positions created solely by departures from the profession and increased enrollments.
